

"Why doesn't your famous League of Nations do something about this Chinese trouble?" we hear the cynics.

Perhaps it will. There are ways to bring some of the questions before it, and they may be used. But the question itself indicates a total misconception of what the League is, and what it is for.

The League is not a super-state, to rule over nations. It is an inter-state, through which they can get together for the maintenance of peace and for many other purposes. And there are many things that are not its business. It is no more a reach to the League of Nations that it does not stop some things in China than it is to the government of the United States that it does not stop some things in Chicago.

FIRST among the things that are not the League's business is civil war. Nearly all the trouble, including all the fighting, now going on in China, is civil war. If there were any danger of war between China and Japan, that would be decided by the League's business. But if the Chinese factions choose to fight each other, so long as they interfere with nobody else, that is China's concern, and not the League's.

AND second, the League has never undertaken to deny the ordinary right of self-defense. If revolution in Portugal menaces the lives and property of foreigners and there is no Portuguese government able to protect them, the right of their own nations to land guards to defend them from irresponsible revolution has always existed, and the League has never proposed to take it away.

NO FOREIGN troops are in China, nor on their way to China, for any purpose of making war on the League. If they were, it would be the Chinese's business. There is a foreign concession at Shanghai which is not and never has been under Chinese rule. If the Chinese wish to take it over, both the British and the American governments have announced their willingness to negotiate for the transfer with the representatives of any government authorized to do so. Meantime the contending armies of China, the Chinese, the Japanese, the British, and the governments now owning it, and whose nationals are endangered, have requested the contestants to recognize the settlement as a neutral zone as it has always been, and to their fighting outside. If they will not agree to this, foreign guards may be stationed in the foreign concession, to protect it. The same thing, on a slightly different legal basis, may be done at Hankow. Nobody is going to make war on China, and there will be no fighting by the foreign troops unless armed Chinese invade the foreign settlements and attack foreigners. Then they will be defended.

If the Chinese were to seek to recover Shanghai and Hongkong by war, that would be the business of the League to stop. If foreigners were to attempt to take anything from China by war, that would be for the League to stop. If China wants these concessions back, by other means than war, that is for the League to encourage. It has already been offered, as soon as there is a Chinese government to negotiate with. But if Chinese mobs or revolutionists seek to stop the foreign settlements and there is no Chinese government to prevent, it is certainly no part of the League's business to compel the foreigners to stand idle and submit. This is the only "trouble" in China that the cynics want the League to stop.

THE most unjust judgment that could be formed of the League of Nations is to over-idealize it. All you need to do to prove the League a failure, is to demand that it should be able to work miracles and bring in the millennium, and then show that it has not done so. Of course not. The League is a very human institution, composed of the representatives of selfish nations. It is still a very incomplete institution. It is not full grown and will be a long time in growing. Some of its performances have been no more admirable than some of those of our own Congress at Washington.

All this is true. But also, it would be equally unjust to imagine that the League is not a successful, going concern. It may not exist for the rest of the world, and is regarded by its members (which means practically everybody, except the United States and Russia) as their most important tool for united and helpful action, and their most useful safeguard of peace.

YOUTH CONFESSES
2 BRUTAL MURDERS

CONNEAUT, O., Feb. 15.—A 16-year-old boy today confessed, police announced, to the brutal murder of Mrs. Cella Brown and her 5-year-old son.

The boy, Floyd Hewitt, who lived across the street from the Brown home, admitted in the alleged confession that he beat the woman to death with a club and then killed her son.

H. D. Hannum, county detective, made the announcement of the confession after he had questioned Hewitt for more than three hours.

The double murder was committed, according to the statement, when Mrs. Brown, who was 27 years old, repulsed the advances of the boy. Angered, he attacked her with a baseball bat and in his fury beat her to death.

QUAKES TAKE HEAVY LIFE TOLL

Newport Harbor Bonds Win, 1008 to 32

BIG VICTORY RECORDED IN PORT VOTING

Improvement of Entrance
Will Commence Shortly,
City Trustees Indicate

$500,000 IS PROVIDED

West Jetty to Be Repaired
And Another Will Be Built Along East Side

VOTERS OF Newport Beach yesterday authorized a $500,000 bond issue for the improvement of the entrance to Newport harbor, by the overwhelming majority of 1008 to 32. The total vote cast was a record vote in the town and revealed the almost unanimous sentiment of the Newport bay district toward improvement of the harbor entrance, which has proved a death trap for 27 persons during the last five years.

By voting the bonds, Newport Beach has assumed the burden of fixing the harbor entrance, which the county twice rejected during the last year.

City trustees of Newport Beach will meet Monday night, to canvass the vote and start proceedings to immediately improve the harbor entrance. The present western jetty is to be rebuilt and extended 2100 feet into the ocean and another jetty is to be constructed to the east harbor entrance. The western jetty will parallel the western jetty for 1500 feet into the ocean. The two jetties will be 900 feet apart.

Buyers Eager for Bonds
It is reported that several bonding companies are eager to purchase the bonds. Kennedy and Sutherland, Los Angeles bond brokers, who purchased the entire $350,000 water bonds in Newport Beach, have offered a rate of 5 1/2 per cent to the city for the bonds.

The bonds will be sold to the highest bidder. Trustees also will arrange for advertising for bids for the construction of the two jetties.

Plans for the two jetties have been prepared by a former government engineer and the work will be done under his supervision, according to reports.

A bill is now before the state legislature, providing for creation of a harbor district, including the towns surrounding Newport harbor, for future improvement of the bay. An appeal also has been made for government assistance.

Optimistic Spirit Prevails
A marked spirit of optimism prevails throughout the harbor district, as a result of victory for the bond issue. Property values have soared virtually overnight. Several new buildings are scheduled to rise at once. The builders have delayed action, pending outcome of the bond election. Now that the bay entrance is to be opened, they are ready to start work, according to reports.

Steps recently taken to make Newport Harbor a port of registration will be pushed with renewed vigor. Many yachts from San Pedro are expected to make their future home in Newport Harbor and the wealth from there will be added to Orange county, if the port is made a place of registration.

Citizens of the Newport Beach district are preparing for a banner year. They declare that the passage of the bond issue will herald the most prosperous year in the history of Newport Beach.

The city was jubilant last night. Citizens, celebrating the victory, formed an automobile parade and visited many cities in Orange county.

Ponzi Draws Term In Penitentiary

BOSTON, Feb. 15.—Presenting a strange contrast to the dapper financial "wizard," who once toured Boston's streets in a custom-made limousine, Charles Ponzi, silent and dejected, appeared in court here today and was sentenced to seven to nine years in state prison as "a common and notorious thief." It was a reaffirmation of the prison sentence, which he evaded many months ago by fleeing the city, while his case was awaiting disposition in the courts.

FREE-FOR-ALL BATTLE MARKS HOUSE HEARING

Fight Occurs at Congress
Quiz Over Peaceful
Sabbath Day

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—A congressional hearing on peaceful celebration of the Sabbath in the District of Columbia today broke up in a free-for-all fight, in which Representative Blanton, Texas, Democrat, grabbed Representative Bloom, Democrat, New York, by the throat and choked him, and blows and kicks were freely distributed in a crowded committee room.

In the midst of the melee, while a shrill feminine voice prayed to the Almighty to end the fight, the hearing was adjourned and spectators separated the tangled batters.

The battle occurred at a hearing of a subcommittee of the house District of Columbia committee on the Lankford bill, providing Sunday blue laws for the District of Columbia.

The fight started when Representative Blanton accused Representative Bloom of opposing the Sunday closing law because he represented motion picture interests.

"That is a deliberate falsehood," said Bloom.

Blanton dashed around the committee table and, according to spectators, seized Bloom by the throat and started to shake him. L. B. Schloss, manager of a Washington amusement park, dashed for Blanton, struck him a glancing blow and fell down. Blanton, spectators asserted, then kicked Schloss.

Harry L. Bowley, secretary of the Lord's Day alliance, sponsoring the bill, joined the scramble of spectators toward the fighters, knocked over the official stenographer, who was still writing notes. He is said to have launched a kick in the general direction of Schloss, who was still on the floor.

By this time the whole committee room was in turmoil, with the shrill voice of the praying woman rising above the sounds of scuffling as the hearing was adjourned.

No serious casualties were suffered.

In a statement to the United Press, Blanton said Bloom, without authority, interrupted the committee's session. Blanton claimed he had "grabbed the wrists" of Bloom.

"Mr. Bloom is not a member of the committee," Blanton said, "and began interrupting the proceedings. The committee decided he could not do so. He said the committee was acting unfairly toward witnesses. I made the statement that Mr. Bloom, whom we all like and respect, was letting his zeal overcome his judgment because of the great motion picture interests in New York. I then grabbed him by the wrists."

"Several people bumped me from behind."

Representative McLeod, according to Blanton, seized a pocket knife from one of the audience.

Hill and Son, local observers, reported a precipitation of 1.08 inches between 7 a. m. and 1 p. m. today.

FOR THE THIRD successive day, rain—steady, consistent, gentle rain—fell on all Orange county and Southern California today and the weather forecast was that the storm would continue tonight and probably tomorrow.

The 24-hour period ended at 7 a. m. today, added .38 of an inch to the season total, making a storm total of 2.02 inches and 7.93 inches for the season, according to measurements by Hill and Son, local observers. The fall time a year ago was 7.11 inches.

The gentleness of the rain and the absence of drying winds has made the recent storms of untold value in sinking moisture into the lands of the county. Every community has benefited, and farmers declare that prospects for good crops have not been so bright in years as they are at this time.

Moisture is Abundant
They assert that there is more moisture in the ground than has been observed at this time of year in many winters.

At points where the fall this year was less than at the corresponding time a year ago, the condition is 100 per cent better than at the corresponding period in 1926.

According to reports by managers of the telephone and electric companies, and the county highway department, there has been no real damage to either of the systems.

The superintendent of county highways has men stationed at all bridges crossing the Santa Ana river to watch developments and clear debris whenever clogging is threatened.

According to Nat H. Neff, superintendent of county highways, the greatest trouble on the highways has occurred in Carbon canyon, where rushing waters have cut the road badly in places.

Road Under Water
The county highway on the Anaheim road to Long Beach is under water for a short distance this side of the bridge across Coyote creek.

The bridge is on the county line and was built jointly by Orange and Los Angeles counties. Water also is running over the highway on the Los Angeles side of the bridge. The road is not impassable, according to reports reaching the highway department.

Calls have been sent to the department branches here and in different sections, but the situation or the damage has not been of a nature warranting a statement that serious damage has resulted.

Observations at noon indicated that the volume of water in Santiago creek and the Santa Ana river was lower than late yesterday afternoon. It is possible that continued heavy rains in the mountains will have the effect of increasing the flow, but a damaging flood is not anticipated.

In the Talbert district water is standing on some lands, but not the result of a break in the river. The situation is the result of

STUDENTS HURT BY EXPLOSION IN LABORATORY

Fire Follows Blast and Wrecks Part of San Pedro High School

(By United Press)
SAN PEDRO, Feb. 15.—In a series of explosions, followed by a fire that turned the laboratories of the San Pedro high school into an inferno of blazing chemicals, fifteen students and two teachers were painfully burned and injured today.

Miss Capicola Nunn, a teacher, of Los Angeles, and Lole Gentry, a student, were the more seriously injured and are under the care of physicians at the San Pedro general hospital. Others were treated for first-degree burns and sent to their homes.

Miss Nunn, who was in the laboratory at the time of the blast, was caught beneath fragments of a falling wall and rescued by students. She suffered burns about the face and arms, body bruises and was cut by flying glass.

The Gentry girl is suffering from third-degree burns. Leaking gas is attributed as the cause of the explosion, which broke bottles filled with explosive chemicals. As the first blast occurred, flaming chemical was sprayed about the laboratory, which was completely wrecked and fire swept the building.

Miss Esther Anderson, 768 Ray street, Long Beach, an English instructor, who was in the class room over the laboratory when the blast occurred, was injured by flying glass.

In addition to the laboratory, two other class rooms were badly damaged. Twenty-four windows in the building were shattered by the explosion, but due to the frequent fire drills 1500 students fled out of the building in good order and without panic.

Students who were treated for cuts and burns before being removed to their homes include: Junior Parker, Selma Costella, Dorothy Myers, Margaret Tuttle, Lloyd Raig, Weldon Mitchell, Lida Douglas, Catherine Davidson, Carl Wentz, Jean Gareth, Alice Lucas, Elizabeth Day and Mary Davonovitch.

FRANCE REJECTS PLAN

Paris Reply to Proposal
It Ready for Delivery to American Ambassador

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—President Coolidge will stand by his insistence that a separate naval agreement between the naval powers is the only practical method of bringing about disarmament.

The president's views, as outlined in his recent invitation to the naval powers for a supplementary Geneva conference, were re-emphasized at the White House today.

The American plan does not exclude league negotiation and action on the general subject of land, sea and air disarmament, but merely supplements the league negotiations, it was said.

In the president's opinion, it is impossible to secure naval agreement affecting the large powers through discussion with many small countries, some of which have no navies at all.

Therefore, the president proposes, as the only practicable method, that the naval problems be segregated as a separate question, to be settled by those directly concerned.

In the absence of official replies to his invitation from Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy, the president declines to comment on the effect on American diplomatic and naval policies of France's reported intention to reject his plan.

FRENCH REPLY WILL REJECT PROPOSAL
PARIS, Feb. 15.—The French reply to President Coolidge's proposals for further limitation of naval armament will be delivered today to U. S. Ambassador Myron T. Herrick. It was believed the reply would amount to polite rejection of Mr. Coolidge's suggestion that France, Great Britain, Italy, Japan and the United States agree to limit armaments in the classes of vessels which were excluded from the Washington conference. These types were cruisers, destroyers and submarines.

The cabinet today unanimously approved the reply, which was drafted by Foreign Minister Briand. The text would not be made public officially here until after it had been presented to Herrick.

Man Walks 15 Miles With Bullet In Brain

WOODLAND, Calif., Feb. 15.—Martin Thomas 51 who walked 15 miles to a hospital here with a bullet in his brain yesterday was still alive today with a chance for recovery according to hospital attendants. During short periods of consciousness Thomas told authorities that he was watching several men hunting ducks near Boyle when he suddenly was felled to the ground as if he had been struck with a club. X-ray pictures revealed that the bullet had torn apart his skull and passed into the brain.

FEAR FELT FOR S. A. PARTY ON MOUNTAIN TRIP

Quartet on Week-end
When Expected

Anxiety is felt for the safety of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kelsey, 1515 West Sixth street, prominent Santa Ana persons; Miss Helen Teasley, Pasadena, who is a nurse in the Santa Ana Valley hospital, and Joe Ogles, 805 East Fourth street, employee of the Pacific Electric company, who left Santa Ana early Sunday morning to spend the day at Big Bear and who, since that time, have not been heard from.

Whether they were caught in a blinding snowstorm and forced to seek shelter in some remote mountain cabin, without food, or whether they were taken in at some mountain resort and have been unable to communicate with the outside world was problematical today.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelsey, with their friends, left here at 1:30 a. m. Sunday. They were taken in to Santa Ana late Sunday night.

A heavy snowstorm in the mountains, which has made roads impassable and broken down telephone wires caused friends to make inquiries through the automobile clubs here yesterday. It was learned that the party had returned to the valley from Victorville, on the other side of the mountains. Relatives of the Kelseys said today that if Mr. and Mrs. Kelsey had reached Big Bear, they would have returned through Victorville, inasmuch as it was important that they return to Santa Ana as soon as possible.

All communication with Big Bear has been cut off by the storm. That two couples may be at a half-way house on the mountain side was the belief of one relative here today.

According to information obtained by the Auto Club of Southern California, the storm left five feet of snow on the mountains in the vicinity of Big Bear. This being true, the Kelsey party, if it is at the half-way house, may be unable to return to the valley for a week or more, it was said.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—For the fourth time in its history, the senate decided on the hated cloture rule today to force adoption of the Pepper-McFallen banking bill.

Invocation of the rule is expected to bring a speedy vote upon the bill.

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 15.—Henry Ford is experimenting with a "medium-priced" automobile, the price of which would range between that of the Ford and Lincoln cars, the United Press was informed today at the engineering laboratories of the company. No further inkling of what sort of car Ford intends to put on the market was given. It was generally believed that the car would be a six-cylinder one.

VIENNA, Feb. 15.—Reports that hundreds of persons had been killed in the Jugo-Slav earthquake were circulated throughout the Balkans today.

The United Press telephonic reports from Zagreb indicated that the figures were exaggerated, although there had been many deaths. Interrupted communications today prevented anything like a comprehensive compilation of deaths or damage.

SEVERAL HUNDRED
REPORTED KILLED
LONDON, Feb. 15.—Several hundred persons were killed by the Jugo-Slavian earthquakes, the Daily Mail correspondent at Vienna telegraphed his paper today. The area of the dead was between Spalato, on the coast of the Adriatic, and Mostar, principal city of Herzegovina.

RED CROSS WORKERS
RUSH TO QUAKE ZONE
BELGRADE, Feb. 15.—Details of deaths and damages in earthquake-shattered Herzegovina were awaited today. Serbian and Red Cross operatives hurried into the mountainous area, where it was feared that large loss of life and tremendous property damage had occurred.

The adjoining province of Bosnia also was believed to have suffered severely from the shocks which, during the period of utmost frequency, occurred at about the rate of one a minute yesterday. The most severe and destructive of the quakes lasted 42 seconds.

Minor shocks continued today to jar the crumbling countryside. A crumbling mountain was reported to have overwhelmed the village of Dabarsko during the main shake.

Telegraph poles in the vicinity of Sarajevo toppled over, interrupting communication.

Thousands of persons were reported to be homeless today in the towns and vicinities of Mostar, Ljubinj, Makarska, Perkovitch, Kerkovitch and Gabela. Cold weather and snowy streets added to the misery of the inhabitants, who already were running short of food.

SENATE TAKES UP
BUILDINGS BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The senate took up today the public buildings bill, recently passed by the house, authorizing appropriations of $250,000,000 for postoffices and other public buildings throughout the country.

Senator Lenroot, Republican Wisconsin, explained he did not expect any action today, but hoped for Thursday passage, so the expenditure might be provided in another deficiency bill.

The bill carries the additional authorization of $100,000,000 added by the house to the $150,000,000 authorized last session.

HEAVY RAINFALL KEEPS UP OVER ORANGE COUNTY

rain falling faster than the lands can absorb it.

Land Is Inundated

Reports from the Los Alamitos district were to the effect that lands between there and Hawaiian Gardens were being flooded by waters from small streams. Hawaiian Gardens is at the junction of Lincoln avenue and the Long Beach road through Artesia.

It is more or less a strange incident that the present storm is repeating history so far as 1926 is concerned. The period of Feb. 12, 13 and 15, 1926, produced 2.13 inches, the approximate amount of this storm. The records reveal that last year .65 of an inch fell on February 12, .74 on February 13, and .71 on February 15.

Tustin, Laguna Beach and other communities had good rains on the same dates last year. Tracks of the steam and electric lines in Orange county have not been affected by the rains, according to reports by agents, and all lines are operating on schedule time.

The Santa Ana river has not overflowed anywhere along its course, investigations disclosed. Many rumors of breaks have been in circulation, but without foundation.

STORMS PREDICTED FOR ANOTHER DAY

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—Storms moving in from the Pacific continued to drench Southern California today, with the prospect that the rains will continue tomorrow bringing the precipitation far above the average seasonal rainfall for this time of year.

The downpour for the storm, which began Saturday, had mounted to 2.53 inches this morning in this city, with the official forecast predicting rain throughout the day and possibly tomorrow.

Little damage has been reported, considering the amount of rain that has fallen, and farmers throughout the Southland were jubilant over the duration of the rain.

Valley towns report that floods were averted when rain turned to snow in the mountains. Reports from Pelly's Camp, Ontario peak said that, between 10 and 12 feet of snow had fallen since Thursday, but that the camp was not snowbound, due to the heavy rain that had formed on top of the fall.

Beach cities reported a heavy sea running and storm warnings have been hung out along the coast. Fishing craft were forced to lay up, pending abatement of the storm.

Although Pomona has registered almost 5 inches of rain since the storm began, no damage has been reported and the thorough drenching was greeted enthusiastically by citrus growers.

It was estimated that 10 inches of rain fell at Camp Baldy, while Pasadena and San Bernardino also were liberally drenched.

Numerous landslides and minor mishaps caused automobile traffic to be detoured. A heavy slide on Verdugo road caused Glendale and La Crescenta traffic to be temporarily held up.

Rainfall figures for the storm follow: Bonita, 4.57; Corona, 2.75; El Cajon, 5.39; Escondido, 3.91; Imperial, .39; Los Angeles Harbor, 1.50; Mt. Wilson, 6.69; Pasadena, 4.24; Pomona, 4.66; Rancho Santa Fe, 2.18; Redlands, 3.04; Riverdale, 2.27; Santa Barbara, 3.36; San Bernardino, 4.13.

The total in this city this season to date registered 11.04 inches, 1.65 inches more than at the corresponding time last year. The normal seasonal rainfall is 9.66 inches for this date.

RAIN TO CONTINUE IN WESTERN STATES
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—Continuation of the storm, sweeping in from the Pacific, for the next 36 to 48 hours or longer, is predicted for the far western states.

Small craft warnings are displayed on the California and Oregon coasts. The outlook is for unsettled weather, with rain in nearly all sections.

Heavy snows, which have fallen in the mountains, will continue. An unusually heavy fall is reported in the Sierras.

BENEFICIAL RAIN IN SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY
FRESNO, Cal., Feb. 15.—The most beneficial rain of the winter season continued to fall on the San Joaquin valley today and is not likely to cease before tomorrow night, according to W. E. Bonnett, U. S. weather prognosticator here.

CRANSTON SAYS CHILDREN ARE SCANTILY GLAD

J. A. Cranston, city superintendent of schools, announced today that reports received from principals of various schools in the city are to the effect that many children are coming to school without proper clothing to protect them against rainy weather.

Many children came to school this morning without overcoats, he said. The necessity of proper clothing for children at this time of the year is emphasized at institutions like the high school, the Frances E. Willard junior high school and other plants, where pupils are required to move from one building to another.

The use of wet or damp clothing, even for a comparatively short time, especially so when not moving about, may result in colds, chills and other disorders, the superintendent declared.

In making known the complaints received from the principals, Cranston asked that parents and guardians see that their children are properly dressed on leaving for school.

George McShallis, 50-year-old San Pedro fisherman, who is suffering from lack of food and blood poisoning, as the result of his experience on a lonely part of Catalina Island, owes his life to the timely arrival of two Newport Beach fishermen, Frank D. Robertson and M. J. Wyers.

The bond election, held yesterday in the beach city, played a part in the rescue. The men were returning to the mainland to cast their ballot in the election and stopped on the island for a few minutes to catch a few lobsters for a meal.

Greeted By Groans
Groans of a human being in distress greeted them. Conducting a hurried investigation, Robertson and Wyers located McShallis, more dead than alive as the result of being without food and a fall into a bed of cactus.

McShallis, a Southland fisherman for the last 30 years, stopped at Catalina Sunday to look after his lobster traps. The boat broke loose from its moorings and drifted out to sea. McShallis started to walk across the island. In his anxiety to reach his destination, he cast caution to the winds and, as a result, fell into a bed of cactus. The thorns pierced almost every inch of his body.

Boats seldom pass the west end of the island and for four days and nights McShallis suffered. During this time he pulled thorns out of his skin with a pair of pliers. Recent rains gave him water to drink, but he was without any food, save for a jar of fruit.

Robertson and Wyers, fishing several miles off the island, ordinarily would not have stopped at the island, but they were determined to cast their votes in the Newport bond election, so started back. They decided that they had time to catch a few lobsters for a meal, so dropped anchor.

Rushed To Avalon
McShallis was rushed to Avalon, where he was given first aid treatment, and then hurried in a coast guard boat to San Pedro and a hospital.

The Gray Ghost was bought by McShallis a few weeks ago. It became known as the cannibal ship following the discovery that Eli Kelly had eaten flesh from the body of his life long friend and partner, James McKinley, aboard the craft. Kelly finally was picked up and revealed that the pair had made a strange pact that whoever survived should eat the flesh of the one who died. The boat had become disabled in a storm and had drifted off the path of vessels.

HECKLING WILL FEATURE CLASH
OF DEBATORS

A form of debate known as the heckling style will be employed when the Santa Ana junior college debaters clash tonight with the Loyola team over the question,
"Resolved: That we Favor the Present Foreign Policy of the United States in Regard to Russia."
The debate will start at 8 o'clock, in the music auditorium of the high school. The experience of having the opponents interrupt during argumentation will be new to the Santa Ana debaters.

At any time during the discussion, one of the debaters may fire a question at the orator, according to the rules. The speaker is required to answer the question and meet any points that his opponent may make. This makes the debating almost impromptu.

Each of the three debaters on each side may interrupt three times during the debate.
The Santa Ana debaters are supporting the negative side of the issue. The team is composed of Winthrop Gordon, Emil Foust and Lon McArthur. Tonight's debate will be a practice clash, preparatory for the league debate later this month, when Santa Ana meets Riverside and Pomona in the second series of the Southern California schedule.

College Head to Speak at Church
Training Session

America's youngest college head, Walter F. Dexter, president of Whittier college, will be the principal speaker at the assembly hour at the First Methodist church's "Church Training" night, tomorrow night, church officials announced today. Dexter, regarded as a forceful and eloquent speaker, will use the topic, "What Is Paramour?"

During the supper and fellowship hour, Maurice Phillips, well known Santa Ana baritone, will sing. Orchestra music also will be a feature. Plans have been made to accommodate 350 persons at this period.

Last week's large enrollment has necessitated rearrangement of some of the classes. A new class for girls of junior high school age, taught by Mrs. W. F. Kistinger, will be instituted. Current events again will be discussed by Miss Jennie Lasby, junior college instructor, who also will continue her discourse of last week on "The Situation in China."

HOME TOO OFTEN

Earl E. Lyman was a champion separatist, if his wife's divorce complaint is to be believed. Lyman left his wife in La Habra, Calif., in 1924, she alleges. Now she wants a divorce and $100 per month alimony.
Mrs. O. E. Lyman, the plaintiff, is represented by Attorneys Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus, of Santa Ana. Her divorce petition, filed last yesterday, states that the Lymans were married in Bea-rue, N. D., 1924. They separated last November 26. There are no children.

While they were living in La Habra, Lyman took his wife to Oinda for her music lesson one day, she states, and failed to return and call for her. Next day, when she located him, he told her they had separated. She alleges that the complaint states further that he subsequently left her for a period of two months while they were living in Oinda. Still later, while they were in Ventura, he left her and she next heard from him from San Diego, she claims.

company for salesmen who attain a certain standard. Membership in this club entitled Rudd to a

the company.

Rudd went to New York, accompanied by Mrs. Rudd. Leaving his wife in New York, Rudd joined 76 salesmen and agents on a boat entire party was taken to Havana, where they spent four days.

Returning to New York, Rudd joined Mrs. Rudd and they returned to Santa Ana via Florida.

All-day Park Picnic
Compliments Guest

An all-day picnic was held in Orange county park Saturday, in compliment to Mac Shepard, a retired telephone man of Bennington, Kans., who has been visiting in the S. J. Swanson home at 118 East Oxford street, as well as with other friends in Southern California.

Approximately 75 old friends from Kansas who now live in the Southland were present, all bearing to the county park, baskets well filled with culinary products of famous Kansas cooks. One long table beneath the great trees, was prepared especially for the dinner hour and presented a sight quite as pleasing to the eye as it was tempting to the palate.

Mr. Shepard was delighted at the opportunity to meet so many of his old friends in one group, and was highly appreciative of the plan where his hosts made it possible. In fact everyone enjoyed the day and its opportunity for renewing friendships and relaxing old acquaintances. The honored guest plans to return to Kansas when reasonably certain of the cold weather being a thing of the past for the present, but is so delighted with Southern California that he will soon return.

Another guest to whom friendly courtesies were extended, was Mrs. Ellen B. Reed, assistant postmistress of Minneapolis, Kans.

sary of their wedded life.

Mr. and Mrs. Lassiter (Dorothy evening with the Clems but on arriving were greeted by a number of their friends who had gathered there before them.

The honored guests had no more than recovered from their surprise at being greeted by such a large

Pretty Party Honors
Fourteenth Birthday

Miss Louise Marshall's fourteenth birthday was made occasion for a very merry party which was shared with a group of young friends bidden to Louise's mother, Mrs. H. M. Marshall, to spend the evening at the home, 721
South Main street.

Nearness of valentine day made that bright motif appropriate to use in all decorative effects, and a series of lively games took place against a background of hearts and bright flowers. Gifts for the young honoree played a prominent part in the evening and the climax of enjoyment was reached when Mrs. Marshall served ice cream and cake, the cake being of the famous "birthday" variety, and bright with fourteen red valentine candles.

WHAT CITY COUNCIL DID

SALARY BOOSTS AUTHORIZED BY CITY COUNCIL

Salary boosts for certain elective offices in the city, reduction in the compensation of city treasurer and decision to submit to voters in the April election a proposition for an increase in the monthly stipend of members of the city council, were features of an adjourned meeting of the city council, held yesterday afternoon and last night.

No provision was made for creating a salary for the members of the board of education. While the council is agreeable to fixing a small compensation for the members of this city body, the members present yesterday took the position that it should not take action inasmuch as no formal request had been made by the present board. Discussions continued until the council would establish a salary of $5 a meeting, with meetings limited to five in number in any one month, should the members of the present board recommend that a wage be established.

Charles Heinrich, chairman of the executive committee of the Citizens' association, was present to discuss with the council recommendations of the committee that a salary of $50 a month be established for members of the council. The committee filed a written recommendation.

Pointing out that the suggested amount could in no sense be considered more than reimbursement for expenses by the individuals, Heinrich said that the committee was of the opinion that the council members should have more money than they are getting at this time, $25 a month.

Want $75 Per Month
Members of the council expressed the opinion that the men who give their services to the city as councilmen should have at least $75 a month, with the president of the body drawing $25 a month more than the other four members. Mayor Frank Purinton declared that he has been spending more than $25 a month for dinners, which costed as the chief executive, demanded that he attend.

The solons also declared that if the voters of the city did not want to approve a salary of $75 a month, they would rather continue the wage at $25 a month than fix the salary at $50.

The salary schedule will have to be submitted to a vote and the election ballot will carry the proposition of $75 a month, with $25 additional for the president.

An increase in salaries of other elective offices does not have to be submitted to a vote. The city clerk's salary was increased from $225 a month to $300. It was pointed out that when salaries were fixed four years ago, the elective officers were increased $75 a month, with an arrangement by which the clerk's salary was to be raised in the same amount, by giving him $25 a month as secretary of the board of health and $50 a month as assistant purchasing agent. A year after the election, the wage given the city clerk as assistant purchasing agent was withdrawn and, since that time, E. L. Vegely, city clerk, has been drawing but $225 a month. It was explained that each member of the council was to be purchasing agent for the department which he headed and that the clerk was appointed assistant to facilitate the purchasing of supplies. Comment was made on the fact that the work of the office of the city clerk has increased tremendously in the last four years, as well as on the possibility of the next four years adding to the work of the office.

Attorney to Get $250
The compensation of the city attorney was fixed at $250 a month. The salary has been $150 a month, with an allowance of $100 a month for a stenographer. Hereafter, the full amount will be paid the attorney, but he will pay his stenographer out of his salary.

The city treasurer's compensation was established at $25 a month, a reduction of $125 a month. In fixing the salary at $150 a month, four years ago, the council of that time anticipated full time employment of the treasurer, with offices in the city hall. The council members elected at the April election made investigations that satisfied them that it was more economical to continue the practice of keeping the funds in the city banks, with one of the banks doing the bookkeeping than it would be to establish the city treasurer in an office in the city hall. It was estimated that it would cost from $8000 to $10,000 to provide a vault, equipment and an office in the city hall.

Following declarations by J. F. Talbott, city recorder, that $150 a month is ample compensation for that position, and expression of the opinion that the salary would be sufficient for the coming four years, the council voted the same wage.

The salary of the city marshal was increased from $200 to $300 a month. Discussions by council members revealed that investigations of salaries paid police chiefs in other cities had disclosed that the compensation here was low and the opinion was expressed that $300 a month for the office was a just compensation.

Salary increases for some of the appointive offices was discussed, but no action was taken. Disclosure was not made as to what the heads of departments deemed proper increases, further than an indication that the fire chief's salary should be raised from $200 to $300 a month.

Assessment District To Be Created

The city council last night instructed the city engineer and the city attorney to initiate proceedings for the creation of an assessment district in the southwest part of the city for the installation of a sewer system.

The district will embrace property south of Edinger street and a few blocks west of South Main street.

Dr. V. G. Presson, health officer, declared that the use of cesspools in the district was a menace to health and that home owners were having difficulty in maintaining cesspools.

PLUMBERS ARE DISREGARDED IN LAW'S PASSAGE

Contrary to the advice and recommendations of a committee of master plumbers and journeymen, the city council yesterday adopted the proposed plumbing ordinance with provision that stone, clay, earthen and cast iron pipe may be used in house sewer laterals.

The committee, in the ordinance it presented, had provided for the use only of cast iron pipe and, in open discussions on the ordinance at council meetings, charges were made that the ordinance was designed to create a monopoly for the manufacturers of cast iron pipe.

As adopted, the ordinance also provides that all but cast iron lines may be laid by persons considered competent by the plumbing inspector upon payment of the proper fee. Cast iron pipe may be put down only by licensed plumbers.

A. C. Brightwell, of Los Angeles, representing the sanitary board of Southern California, recommended adoption of the ordinance as presented by the committee. Brightwell asserted that the use of cast iron would eliminate trouble now had with sewers by breakage of pipe lines and by tree roots entering the sewer lines. He asserted that better health protection would be afforded.

Stating that he had been told by the building inspector that 225 residences and apartment houses had been erected in the city in the last year, Brightwell said that if the cost of installation of cast iron was $10 per connection greater than the costs under the common pipe in use, it would have cost the builders only $2250 more. The greater protection to health and the longer life of the cast iron installation would more than compensate for this added cost, he asserted.

Frank Thomason, representing the committee, pointed out that "peak vents," required with the installation of other pipe, had been eliminated in the ordinance and that with this elimination, cast iron installation would cost no more than present charges for clay pipe.

BEACH MAN JAILED FOLLOWING CRASH

Fred Selfkin, 206 Eleventh street, Seal Beach, is being held in the city jail in Long Beach, under $500 bail, following his arrest yesterday, when he is alleged to have attempted to elude motor officers and, as a result, crashed into a car driven by A. McCredle, of Long Beach.

Selfkin is charged with reckless driving. He is said to have been traveling 35 miles an hour across the intersection at State street and Atlantic avenue when he struck the McCredle machine. Miss Gwen-dolyn McCredle, daughter of A. McCredle, suffered minor injuries from flying glass.

Two Long Beach officers reported that they had been pursuing Selfkin for several blocks before the crash occurred.

Mrs. Musa Miller Dies In Fullerton

Mrs. Musa L. Miller, 34, wife of Abner Miller, proprietor of the Olive Fruit company, passed away in the Fullerton hospital yesterday afternoon following an illness of several weeks.

Mrs. Miller came to Fullerton five years ago, with her husband. She leaves, besides her husband, two children, Clark, 15, and Juanita, 13; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Lambertson, of Costa Mesa; two brothers, Jay and Norrell also of Costa Mesa, and a sister, Mrs. Ina Horton, Los Angeles.

Private services will be conducted in the McAulay and Fuller chapel at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow. The Rev. G. C. Hunter will be in charge of services. Interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

BIG NATIONAL PARK
CAPE TOWN, Africa, Feb. 15.—South Africa lately combined two provincial game reserves into a national game park almost as large as the state of Massachusetts. It is said to be richer in animal, plant and bird life than any other game reserve in the world. The larger game alone, lions, elephants, hipopotami, rhinoceri, giraffes, zebras, buffaloes, antelope, leopards, hyenas and wild dogs now comprise 150,000 head, wardens estimate.

FINAL ACTION PROTEST FILED ON ZONING LAW AGAINST LIGHT IS POSTPONED INSTALLATION

Absence from the city, yesterday, of Councilman E. B. Collier, and the contemplated absence from the city, next Monday, of Dr. Carol Aronovitch, forced the city council yesterday afternoon to put over for two weeks final consideration of the city zoning ordinance and map. Final action was scheduled for yesterday afternoon.

"The council, two weeks from today, will approve, reject or decide to submit the zoning program to a vote of the people," Mayor Frank Purinton advised North Main street residents present. The city body will meet at 3 p. m.

P. C. Wedell and M. Nisson made brief remarks, the former favoring opening of Main street its full length to business enterprises and Nisson opposing the widening of the street to a 90-foot avenue, as recommended by the planning commission. Widening is not contemplated for the immediate future and the ordinance and map merely proposes the establishment of a setback line that will make the widening easier of accomplishment in the future.

City Attorney Charles D. Swanner was directed to represent the city at a hearing before the railroad commission, in Los Angeles, on March 10, on the application of the Pacific Electric company for an increase in rates.

Theater Censor Resigns
Resignation of Mrs. E. L. Morris as a member of the theater censor board was accepted. The city now is without a censor board.

Application of Charles Wolford for appointment to the police force was referred to the police commissioner.

Request of a street lamp on Fairview avenue, at Towner street, was referred to the lighting commissioner.

Permission was given the Robertson Electric company to install an electric sign for Herbert Krablin at his service station, 2311 North Main street.

The city engineer and city attorney were directed to prepare plans and specifications and resolutions for the paving of Freeman street, from Eighth to Tenth street.

Seven oil companies presented identical bids for supplying the city with 30,000 to 50,000 gallons of gasoline for one year. The bids were 15 1-2 cents a gallon, with protection to the city in case of a decrease in the wholesale price. Two of the concerns were disqualified because of failure to inclose certified checks. The bids were taken under advisement for one week.

A. Butz suggested that it would be a good plan to adopt an ordinance requiring the lighting of parking lights on automobiles standing under trees and along the sides of streets in the city. He also suggested that it would be a good idea to look more carefully "after nails sticking up in the hitching posts on street intersections," the reference being to the buttons on the intersections and the occasional sticking up of the spike holding the buttons to the street.

Protests Are Overruled
W. P. Faust and W. B. Langford filed written protests against assessments levied against their properties for the North Bristol street paving. The objections were overruled and the assessments approved.

The street department was authorized to purchase a searifier for use of the department.

J. A. Randel, former poundmaster, was cleared of suspicion of irregularity in conduct of his department. A shortage of funds, disclosed in an audit of his books, it was discovered by investigation, was due to failure to take into consideration receipts bills he had for feed for dogs in the pound.

A Balance Sheet that All can Read

AN Eastern newspaper said a great deal in an Editorial paragraph when it remarked recently:

"Faith excels statistics for most of us today when it comes to choosing wisely among multi-millioned corporations for investment of funds. The good name for a business house means more to us than ten columns of figures. The reputation of fair dealing of an able and successful management means more than the most complicated balance sheet."

There are now over 100,000 shareholders in the Southern California Edison Company, 90% of whom reside in the territory served by the Company.

To judge solely from the number of investors, it would seem that this organization has reason to believe that it enjoys a fair measure of the confidence of the investing public.

Spring Flowers Give Added Charm to Smart Affair

Not only was the beautiful home of the Richard Emmons on North Park boulevard placed at the disposal of the Daughters of the American Revolution for their big bridge party of last Thursday afternoon, but it was also the setting for a smartly appointed luncheon of recent date when Mrs. Emmons and Mrs. Lester L. Carden joined in entertaining some half hundred of their friends.

No home in the city could provide a more stately or beautiful setting for social life, and the 12 tables required for luncheon and the afternoon bridge series, were so arranged through drawing room, library and dining-room, that the air of spaciousness was even emphasized. Spring flowers arranged in French effect, were used to center the luncheon tables, and found their counterpart in the floral background, in the dainty place and talleys and in the smart afternoon gowns of the guests.

Mrs. W. A. Flood, Mrs. John Tubbs and Mrs. Harvey Smith of Glendale, aided in various pleasant hostess duties. Mrs. Smith, a sister of Mrs. Emmons, is Mona Summers Smith, whose work with Santa Ana Community Players, especially in the recent success, "Enter Madame," has been so acclaimed.

The desirable prizes selected by the two young matrons, Mrs. Carden and Mrs. Emmons, were secured by Mrs. Horace Stevens, Mrs. Fred Chapman and Mrs. Herbert Miller, scoring first, second and third high respectively.

Three Anniversaries In Ladiges Family Are Celebrated

Two pleasant events, a double birthday party and a surprise wedding anniversary celebration, enlivened the past week for members of the Paul Ladiges family, 411 South Artesia street. In the birthday celebration, the two children of the home, Pauline and Richard, were honored, and the wedding anniversary was that of Mr. and Mrs. Ladiges themselves, and was planned as a surprise to them by their friends of Trinity Lutheran church.

It was after morning services Sunday at the church that one of the deacons took the opportunity to present Mrs. Ladiges with a great cluster of flowers from her friends, and Mr. Ladiges with a boutonniere, and then requested them to accompany him to the assembly hall. As they entered, Mrs. Ladiges played the Wedding March from Lohengrin, to which the guests were escorted to places of honor at a table arranged with many delicious dishes including a wedding cake prepared by Mrs. Guthman, 73 years old.

After the dinner which followed, the Rev. William Schmook, pastor of the church, made a friendly talk, offering the congratulations and good wishes of the assembled congregation. To complete the happy occasion, the women of the church showered Mrs. Ladiges with attractive pieces of kitchenware. Games and conversation completed the pleasant afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ladiges have resided in Santa Ana since 1920, coming here directly from Saginaw, Mich., where they were married on February 14, 1917. Mr. Ladiges has served as substitute clerk in the postoffice for the past three years, and he and his wife have made hosts of friends, who took special pleasure in showing their friendship by the surprise anniversary celebration.

The birthday party for Pauline and Richard Ladiges, was equally delightful in its way and was held Saturday afternoon when eight of their playmates were invited to join in games and kindred party joys.

After a merry interval, the youngsters were invited to the dining room where they were served sandwiches, fruit punch and two delicious birthday cakes. Master Richard, whose birthday was February 12, had six yellow candles on his cake, while little Miss Pauline who will be 7 on February 17, had seven pink candles on hers.

Both children received many pretty gifts from their little friends who were Patricia McClure, Jack McClure, Ray Lawrence, Aletta Eymann, Norman Robinson, James Farnell and Margaret Jensen.

Friends Entertained At Dinner Party

A very pretty and friendly affair of the Valentine season was the dinner party given by Mrs. Ella Strassberger at her attractive ranch home on North Bristol street, where flowers grown in the hostess' own garden added to the cheer.

The table where the carefully planned menu was served, was centered with sweet peas and at each place was a Valentine nut cup. Covers were placed for Mrs. Strassberger, hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Swarts and two sons, Willis and Billy Joe, Claremont; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jackman and daughters Barbara and Dorothy of Anaheim and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fenton of Orange.

Another Member Added To Community Players

When it was announced recently that the steady growth of Santa Ana Community Players was aided by the arrival of the small son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Crawford, whose birth followed the final presentation of "Enter Madame," the Players generally were unaware that the play opened quite as auspiciously. For on February 1, after the first night of "Enter Madame," a small son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wilson thus adding another new member to Community Players. For Mr. Wilson takes enthusiastic part in the phase of the Players' activities that most appeals to him—the scenery department, and has been invaluable for his aid and enthusiasm. The new ladie is a "junior" since he has been named Cecil Wilson II.

DYNAMIC SPEAKER PRESENTED AT EBELL'S ANNUAL LUNCHEON

Ask any Ebells woman who yesterday heard Rene Basil Clark talk on woman's opportunity in the world, if there were a new way in which to present the subject, she would answer with an enthusiastic affirmative. For the large group of clubwomen who had the privilege of hearing a dynamic speaker, agreed that not only was the subject presented them in a new light, but those things which perhaps they had pondered before, were so irradiated with the speaker's personality and enthusiasm that they were altogether new.

Introduced at Luncheon
The occasion was the annual spring luncheon of the Ebells society, and the speaker, Rene Basil Clark, was secured to present a talk somewhat at variance with the frequently accompanies such a gathering. Not that Madame Clark could not be amusing when she wished. Her trenchant wit bubbled over at the most unexpected moments, but never for one instant was allowed to interfere with the seriousness of the message that she brought—a message that never wrong thinking of the world had women been in such a strategic position as at the present, and that the fate of future generations depended upon her use of present opportunities.

"Man-brought civilization has not brought success. Now woman is to be given her opportunity, not to forge ahead and try to gain that success alone, but to walk hand-in-hand with man and shoulder to shoulder, in bringing it to pass."

"People criticize this new generation of flappers, but I adore the flapper," she declared enthusiastically. "For the first time in the history of the world, the young girl is thinking for herself. It may be wrong thinking, but to our generation is entrusted the great responsibility of guiding those thoughts in the proper channels. That is where our opportunity lies. If we could blend our standards with hers, what wonderful results we would have!"

Turning to the subject of universal peace, the speaker declared "A woman must have her own viewpoint but be equally able to get that of others with whom she comes in contact. Women have the viewpoint of peace today as they have never had it before. Ours is the task then, to resolve never to rest until the next generation is so firm in the belief of peace that war would be utterly impossible."

Her talk on peace was prefaced with the vision that came to her on the battlefield of Mons in those early days of the World war, when she saw that first fine flower of civilization—10,000 dead faces staring with unseeing eyes into nothingness. To her came the memory of wonderful women who had hated war but who had laid aside their hatreds to work for the common good and for woman's cause, Susan B. Anthony, Edith Cavell, "Elizabeth the Good" of Belgium, Florence Nightingale—many others.

Law Observance
Turning from the opportunities for fostering world peace, Madame Clark voiced her amazement as a native of the United States, at the general attitude towards prohibition, which she found during her return to this country after an absence of a number of years. "Prohibition is here; the people got it here—they have got to abide by it. There is so much talk of the evils of law-breaking among others, and yet all the power lies within ourselves. If we do not set the proper example, we are responsible for every bit of the wrong doing. Obedience to the law is necessary. It is the first standard which we must set for these thinking young people. If children were not thinking for themselves, they could perhaps take the old standards and worry along somehow, but they do not suffice today. So our biggest opportunity of all, is to set the right example to our children. That neglect that was understandable and justifiable during the war, cannot be condoned now. Do not allow it to be said that church attendance is unfashionable. If that were the case we well might ask 'what is the world coming to?' but we have to have the rock of

Luncheon Details
The annual luncheon was another factor in the day's success, and guests were seated at long tables gay with Valentine symbols and candles, to enjoy a menu of home-cooked delicacies prepared by Mrs. Charles Carothers and her third travel section members.

A brief business meeting served to bring various matters before the members, including the financial condition of the club and of the day nursery. An interval of singing led by Mrs. Herbert M. Sammis and with Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh at the piano, added the necessary touch of music. It was probably the final appearance of Mrs. Sammis as song leader for the club, for she will soon join the other members of her family in their new home in San Diego.

Colonial Motif for Country Club Function
Stately dames in panniers and cameo jewelry on black velvet ribbons; coquettish little colonial maids with fascinating Janice Mer-cure curls, wearing flowered taffeta frocks with soft white fichus; dignified beaux in powdered per-ukes, satin shorts, long silk stockings and silver buckled pumps, will tread a dignified measure Saturday night at the colonial dinner and ball of Santa Ana Country club which will open at 7 o'clock when dinner will be served.

Dancing is expected to be especially interesting in view of the fact that Tom Murray's orchestra has been secured and Murray himself (formerly with "The Gold Rush" and now proprietor of an orchestra and a broadcasting station) will entertain between dances.

Manager F. T. McGilvray has asked that reservations be made with him as early a date as possible, that they may be certain of the number of tables needed for the dinner hour. Colonial costumes are not obligatory, but since so many club members are fortunate in possessing the charming styles, it is anticipated that practically everyone will meet the management's wishes and appear clad in ye garb of ye olden tyme.

Saturday night's dinner dance will not be the only Country club gayety of the week, for the monthly afternoon bridge party will be held tomorrow. Members may motor down to lunch in the cozy club if so disposed, since playing at 2 o'clock will allow them ample time to enjoy a leisurely luncheon as a preliminary.

Mother and Daughter Are Complimented At Family Party

A double birthday enjoyed by Mrs. John Sebastian of South Bristol street, and her daughter, Mrs. Julian Mathews, (Lela Sebastian), 813 North Ross street, offered incentive for a delightful family gathering with a birthday feast, which was given Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Sebastian in their Anaheim home. Vivid red roses and a cheery fire blazing on the hearth made the home a bright contrast to the storms without, and the members of the family held an extremely enjoyable reunion. There was but one thing to mar the complete happiness of the occasion, and that was the absence of one section of the family group, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sebastian and their small son Stanley. Master Stanley is convalescing from an attack of measles and could not be permitted to go out in such a storm.

Those gathered around the rose-centered table for the birthday dinner included the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Sebastian and their little daughter Vivian, their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sebastian, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Mathews, Miss Sara Sebastian who came from her studies in Los Angeles to be present, and Julian Bowles, also of Los Angeles.

Any resume of Madame Clark's talk, must necessarily be lifeless, for it is the magnetic personality of the speaker combined with her earnestness and a glowing enthusiasm, that holds an audience spell-bound. At the close of her talk, after the clubwomen had sat for an hour in tense silence punctuated by bursts of applause and occasional ripples of delighted laughter, Mrs. S. W. Stanley, Ebells' president, and her capable program committee, Mrs. Lloyd Chenoweth, Mrs. Robert Northcross, Miss Gallene Finley and Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, were all highly commended for the efforts which brought so interesting a speaker to the club.

Club Is Entertained
Red hearts, cupids and arrows were much in evidence last night at the Valentine party given at the home of Miss Kate Benton, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Benton, 1504 Bush street, for the junior college Press club.

Throughout the evening, games which bespoke the spirit of St. Valentine were played. These had been arranged by Miss Charlotte Harnois and Miss June Goodwin who were in charge of the entertainment and refreshments. Every one had written a Valentine letter which was read aloud during the evening. It was decided that Allen Goddard's letter was the most original and he was presented with an attractive prize. In another game which consisted of arranging a puzzle, Miss Rebecca Budrow was awarded a prize.

Finally a huge, gaily feathered Valentine box was opened and in it was found a Valentine for every one present. Special favors arranged for the girls by Miss Harnois were dainty Valentine hats and aprons.

Foregoing the pleasures of the evening for a few moments members of the Press club turned their thoughts to more serious matters than Valentines and elected officers for the coming semester. The new officers are Miss Kate Benton, president; Melvin Harter, vice president; Miss Mary Elizabeth Rutledge, secretary, and Miss Charlotte Harnois, social chairman.

Refreshments were served by Miss Benton, Miss Goodwin and Miss Harnois assisted by Miss Jean Battersby and Mrs. Benton.

Young Couple Wedded At Quiet Ceremony

Many friends of Miss Ida Alberta Bowe and Alvin H. Rohrs, will be deeply interested in details of their wedding on Saturday afternoon, February 12 in the First Baptist church parlor.

The ceremony took place at 2 o'clock, and the young people took their places before the minister, the Rev. Otto Russell, to the strains of Lohengrin, played by Miss Frances Rohrs. The bride, who is the daughter of Arthur E. Bowe, chose a lovely afternoon gown in tones of coral for her costume, which was most becoming to her dark hair and eyes. She carried roses and sweet peas in effective arrangement.

The parlor was prettily decorated with sweet peas for the ceremony which took place directly before the fireplace. Only immediate members of the family were present.

Mr. Rohrs and his bride will be at home to their friends after this week, at 140 South Harwood street, Orange, where the many lovely gifts showered on them, will find prominent place. A number of pleasant pre-nuptial parties were given for the bride, among them a kitchen shower by her sister-in-law, Ruth Elliott Bowe. Mr. Rohrs will resume his place with the Standard Oil company at Orange and his bride will return to her duties at the Abstract and Title company.

COLLEGE GIRLS HOLD CARNIVAL IN CAMPUS HUT

A "wild west carnival," with thrilling holdups, card games and even a mock wedding, was held Saturday night, under the auspices of the Santa Ana Junior college Y. W. C. A., in the campus hut. The event was of such success that it probably will be staged each year. Miss Muriel Smith, president of the Y. W. C. A., declared.

At the opening of the program, Miss Hazel Smith, accompanied by Miss Elaine Smith, sang vocal solos. A Spanish tango was danced by Miss Elaine Smith.

"Gunmen" on Scene
In the midst of the entertainment, three disguised "gunmen," totting cap pistols, ordered the students to line up, but the bandits were thwarted when some of the students disarmed them. When their disguises were removed, the holdup "men" proved to be the Misses Julia Cummings, Frances Reed and Kate Benton.

Miss Enid Twist officiated as the minister in a mock wedding, in which Miss Irma Brown was the bride and Miss Kate Benton the groom.

The fortune telling booth, conducted by Mrs. Nell Winslow, proved the most popular with the students. Most of the Santa Ana boys, like gentlemen, prefer blondes and most of the girls want a kiss, it was revealed by the cards.

Atmosphere of Frontier
An atmosphere of the frontier was given to the hut by the bar, in one corner, the old guns and skins about the walls and the mock carousing of would-be forty-niners. A dispute in one of the card games resulted in the shooting of Miss Kate Benton.

About 50 college students attended the affair. The funds raised were to be turned over to the "Y. W. C. A. work in Santa Ana, were present.

The committee chairman given credit for the success of the "show" were Evelyn Metzgar, general chairman; Lois Winslow, fortune telling; Kate Benton, punch; Julia Cummings, candy; Enid Twist, confetti; Miss Muriel Smith, games, and Miss Elaine Smith, program.

Says Coaching Exacts Too Much Time

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Feb. 15.—Pete Reynolds, Syracuse varsity football coach, who recently signed a new two-year contract, has asked to be released for the reason that he cannot afford to devote the time necessary for the position.

"Football coaching now exacts almost 365 days in a year and I can't afford to spend that much time at it," he said.

RECKLESS DRIVERS DRAW HEAVY FINES

Two men, booked on charges of driving automobiles while intoxicated, were fined on reckless driving charges in Judge J. F. Talbot's police court yesterday. When the complaints read "reckless driving" instead of "driving while intoxicated."

M. W. Holloway, Placentia, arrested at Twentyfirst and Main streets, on February 13, was fined $250, which he paid. The same fine was meted out to Bob Clark, Santa Ana. Both men were arrested after the machines which they were driving, were reported as having crashed into other machines.

Charged with being drunk, Sam McFarland, Santa Ana, was given a 30-day suspended jail sentence. Tom King, 221 South Flower street, charged with speeding, drew a $10 fine, which he paid.

2 Boys Arrested On Gaming Charge Appear In Court

Two of the three youths arrested last week for participating in a "crap" game in a garage across the street from the Santa Ana high school were in police court yesterday. One was cited to appear before the juvenile court and the other, on a plea of guilty, was given a 30-day suspended jail sentence.

Judge J. F. Talbot threatened to issue a bench warrant for the third high school boy, when he did not appear in court yesterday as instructed. When arrested, all three boys were released on their own recognizances. One of the three did not appear yesterday, it was said.

F. W. Howard, one of the arresting officers, said today that the third youth was expected to appear in court today.

RELIGION BILL MODIFICATION MAY BE ASKED

Recommendations looking toward a modification of senate bill No. 145, introduced by State Senator Cobb, better known as the "week-day religious education bill," so as to make its provisions optional or permissive in nature instead of mandatory, may be adopted at tonight's conference meeting, to be held at 8:30, at Ketter's cafe, it was intimated today by supporters of the measure.

The meeting will be held under auspices of a citizens' committee, composed of representative men and women, from the various church organizations in the county. According to J. A. Cranston, city superintendent of schools, much of the opposition to the bill, among school executives, is based upon the obligatory nature of its provisions. To overcome this opposition, which, he intimated, might defeat the proposal, it may be advisable to modify its phraseology, it was pointed out.

Observations of Mrs. Dorsey
Covering this particular point are the observations of Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, superintendent of the Los Angeles city schools, in a letter addressed to Superintendent Cranston.

Her letter follows, in part: "In reply to your letter of February 8, may I say that, last Saturday morning, and again last evening, I had a long interview with certain clergymen in Los Angeles. May I say, further, that I stood firmly for my contention that the law, as it is now worded, would force a board of education to excuse children for religious instruction, if the parents made the request."

"I am wholly opposed to any mandatory clause in the measure. I told these gentlemen that, if the mandatory 'shall,' as it affects boards of education, becomes permissive 'may,' I shall approve the measure, always granting that the bill be not changed essentially in any other particulars."

Religion Much Neglected
"I sincerely desire to further every measure that would contribute to the improvement of the religious education of our children, which is certainly a much neglected feature of modern life, but I have no intention of putting myself in a position where I would be forced to send children for religious instruction, when it involved the jeopardy of the children from traffic, or the giving of instruction of a low standard from a religious, or any other point of view."

Doubt as to the practicability of the bill is voiced by J. M. Gwinn, superintendent of the San Francisco city schools, who says that he is quite in accord with the idea that young people should have religious instruction. He adds, "I believe that the plan under the proposed bill for released time is not the proper method of providing ways and means for this instruction."

Bakersfield Man Favorable
In contrast to the views expressed by the superintendents of the Los Angeles and the San Francisco school systems, is the stand taken by Charles E. Teach, superintendent of the Bakersfield city schools.

He says: "My examination of these bills convinces me that there should be no valid objection to the propositions."

"Accordingly, I presented the bills to our board of education last night for consideration and the Bakersfield city board of education unanimously endorsed the proposed bills."

Santa Ana Woman Is Reported Safe When Boat Docks
Fear for the safety of Mrs. Louise Haskell, Santa Ana woman, and others, yesterday reported as missing on the yacht Scaramouche, owned by Charles Reynolds, of Riverside, was dispelled today, when it was learned that the yacht had docked safely and that those aboard had reached their homes.

Mrs. Haskell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Grubb, 119 Edgewood avenue. She telephoned her parents last night that the yacht no longer was "missing."

Mrs. Reynolds, wife of the commander of the pleasure craft, also is a former Santa Ana girl. She formerly was a Miss Marshall of this city.

The yacht docked in Wilmington, from where it sailed just prior to the storm, Saturday.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Feb. 15.—Joe Stecher, world's champion heavyweight wrestler, was under arrest here today charged with disorderly conduct following serious injury of Charles Renthrop, his opponent in a match last night. Renthrop was thrown to the mat with such violence when Stecher secured the first fall that he was knocked unconscious.

3 MISSING PERSONS REPORTED TO POLICE

Santa Ana police today were asked to aid in a search being made for three persons missing from their homes.

W. H. Moody, 356 South La Pare street, Beverly Hills, reported that his wife and brother left Beverly Hills Sunday for San Diego and were to wire him on their arrival in the border city. He thinks, he reported, that they have not arrived there, as he has received no telegram.

Robert Scott, 14-year-old Los Angeles boy, left home at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon in a car, with a boy friend, and has not returned. The youths are thought to have come to Santa Ana. N. A. Scott, father of Robert, asked the police for aid.

Mrs. W. L. Rees, 2015 South Hickory street, reported to police that her husband left here Saturday to go to San Juan Capistrano. So far as she knows, he never arrived there and she has not heard from him since. She asked that a search be made in Santa Ana.

Beware Winter's Colds and Chills

To Be Fit Keep the System Free From Toxins.
COLDs, chills and changing temperature throw extra burdens on our kidneys. Sluggish function is apt to permit retention of waste poisons in the blood and make one more susceptible to winter's ills. When such retention occurs, one feels aches, tired and listless—is subject to drowsy headaches, dizziness and perhaps a toxic backache. That the kidneys are not functioning properly is often shown by burning or scanty secretions. Doan's Pills have earned an enviable reputation in these conditions. Ask your neighbor!

GROWERS AND HOME OWNERS ACT TO COMBAT SMUGGING EVIL

Representative Committee Reports Its Findings at Meeting of Two Factions

MOVEMENT INSURES FUTURE PROTECTION

Body Recommends Heaters Which Throw Off Least Smoke for Replacements

Co-operation between citrus growers, who believe in smudging, and home owners of the Tustin district, who have protested against smudging, has resulted in an amicable settlement of the citrus heating question in Tustin. It was announced today. A group of 15 citrus growers and home owners met last night in the First National bank building, Tustin, and ironed out the difficulties.

Home owners in the district had declared that they would sell their homes and move out because of the smudge evil. Citrus growers claimed that the smoke was better than losing their crops.

The two factions recently appointed a committee of five, two citrus growers, who favored the heating question, two home owners and one disinterested person. The committee investigated all types of heating apparatus and submitted its findings at last night's meeting.

400 Acres Protected

The committee recommended the use of heaters which give off a minimum of smoke for replacement and new equipment. It was pointed out that there are 4500 acres of citrus land in the Tustin district and only 400 acres are protected by heaters.

"The most important development of the co-operative movement is the planning for future protection, both to the home owners and to the citrus growers," Pelton Browning, chairman of the investigating committee, declared today.

Browning stated that the co-operation shown by the Tustin residents and citrus growers would eliminate much of the trouble which has developed in other communities. Plans outlined for future heating in the Tustin district eventually should solve the smoke problem, Browning pointed out.

Other members of the committee were C. V. Newman, Ross, Shafer, W. L. Ferrey and J. P. Hatzfield. Citizens present at the meeting included W. Hoxie, C. C. Lambert, Horace Stevens, Perry Lewis, Roy Rannels, William Cheney and Frank Grisct.

Following is the resolution unanimously passed by the citrus growers and home owners:

Resolution as Adopted.

"Whereas, the smoke from orchard heating is an annoyance to the residents of the Tustin district;

"And whereas, the growers engaged in heating desire to mitigate the annoyance as far as is economically practicable;

"And whereas representative residents and growers have met to discuss the above mentioned conditions, and, after due investigation, find that there are about 4500 acres of citrus in the Tustin district, of which about 400 acres are equipped with heaters, and are of the opinion that the acreage pro-

Little Jean Is Happy Now, for She Has Daddy

Little Jean Siers' life ambition has been realized. She has a daddy!

Jean, a Los Angeles lass of eight lonesome years, was unquestionably the happiest person present, when her mother, Jeannette B. Siers, 29, was married here yesterday, to Waldorf J. Boland, 30, Los Angeles accountant. There was no mistaking that Jean approved of the match.

She never had seen her own real daddy, who was killed in France a few months after he had married the orange-faced Yankee girl who waited in vain for his return.

During all the years that she has been old enough to realize that other little girls have daddies, Jean has longed wistfully for a daddy of her own.

So, when she got one, yesterday, she threw her arms about his neck in wild abandon to her ecstasy.

"My daddy," she murmured, while her mother watched with misty eyes.

Jean's rapture was complete when the Rev. F. T. Porter, officiating minister, had her serve as ring-bearer at the wedding, which took place in the pastor's study.

COFFEE BEAN'S HISTORY TOLD WOMEN'S CLUB

That more than 50 different kinds of coffee plants are grown throughout the world was the statement of J. E. Bockmon, manager of the coffee department of Smart and Final company, Wilmington, when he addressed members of the Business and Professional Women's club, yesterday at St. Ann's Inn.

Bockmon gave a brief outline of the general care given these plants in South America, saying that the best coffee berries come from Colombia, where they are grown at an altitude of more than 10,000 feet. In telling of the history of coffee, Bockmon said that the plant first was discovered and grown in Arabia, during the third century.

Food for Sheep
Used at first as a food for sheep because it seemed to exhalate them, the Arabians soon started to use it themselves, Bockmon said. It was used then both as a beverage and as a food.

Bockmon said that coffee was introduced into England in 1552. It soon proved popular. An interesting fact was that at one time the king of England tried to abolish the use of coffee in public places, or coffee houses, as they were called, for fear that the increasing crowds to visit these places should join forces and harm the government.

In quoting statistics, Bockmon said that in the Netherlands, consumption of coffee totaled 16 pounds a person annually. Following Netherlands in the consumption of coffee is Sweden, Denmark, Norway and then the United States, with 12 pounds per person.

Reads Lincoln Address
Preceding Bockmon's address, Clyde Bishop, attorney, read Abraham Lincoln's second inaugural speech.

It was announced that members planning to attend the luncheon at the Elhi club next Monday must have their reservations made as soon as possible.

Miss Jeannette Hedges, of Mansfield, who is a guest at St. Ann's Inn and plans to spend some time in Santa Ana, was a guest at the luncheon meeting.

WEALTHY HOSPITAL PATIENT TRIES SUICIDE; WON'T LEAVE AS LONG AS BILLS HOLD OUT

A shroud of mystery, which, so far, hospital attendants and physicians here have been unable to pierce, surrounds the life and habits of a man, in the Orange County hospital, who is recovering from a self-inflicted wound in his left arm, in what is believed to have been a suicide attempt.

The man is Henry Miller, who gave his address as 147 E. street, San Diego, and who, aside from that, has been able to conceal everything else.

All that is known of the man is that he was found in a Santa Ana drug store, last July, when he asked for medical attention and said he wanted to be admitted to a hospital.

As hospitals do not take cases without orders from a physician, Miller asked for a doctor while in the drug store. One was called and he took Miller's case. The man was sent to the hospital and has been there ever since.

Has Plenty of Money
Doctors who attended him are reluctant to divulge information regarding the patient, or any other patient, for that matter, but in the case of Henry Miller, they frankly admit they know nothing, except that he had several thousand dollars in cash on his person at the time he was taken to the hospital.

The physician who removed him to the hospital said today that the money is in a local bank.

"Henry Miller is a mental case," That comes from the doctor, and nothing more in the way of information.

Regarding the suicide attempt, Miller merely took an old safety razor blade, slashed his left arm with it, regretted his act, and rang for his nurse. The nurse came, and the wound was given medical attention, with the result that the suicide attempt was a complete failure. The cut on the arm was not serious.

Little Information Offered
Where Miller came from, what he was doing in Santa Ana, why he wanted to go to a hospital and what he expects to do in the future, Elhi club next Monday meeting at the Orange County hospital for observation, a doctor there said today.

Miller refuses to discuss himself.

ORANGE COUNTY 48 AND 8 WILL HOLD HI-JINKS

Voiture's Annual Party To Be Wednesday Night Event at Fair Grounds

Members of La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux of Southern California are looking forward to the first annual hi-jinks, to be held by the Orange county voiture, tomorrow night, at the Orange County fair grounds.

Elaborate plans are being completed today for the program of events for tomorrow night, which, according to Joe Plank, chief de gare, and M. D. Todd, correspondent of the Orange county order, will eclipse anything that the Forty and Eight has yet attempted in this county.

Scores of visitors from all county organizations of the society in Southern California have announced that they will be here for the purpose of determining just what kind of hi-jinks the Orange county ex-service men can stage, and local members are certain the visitors will not be disappointed, several said.

Everything in Readiness
The executive committee of the Orange county voiture has met almost every night for two weeks for the purpose of discussing plans and carrying on the work for the show and today the committee announced everything in readiness. A big meeting of the chemist was held last night at the Santa Ana hotel.

The very best entertainers from Hollywood will take part in the show, Plank announced. He also said that the regular order of business would be dispensed with and the entire evening given to entertainment.

Larry Doyle and his Rainbow orchestra will accompany the vaudeville acts to Santa Ana and will provide specialty numbers, with Jack Bain as master of ceremonies. Bain has been loaned to the Forty and Eight for the evening by the West Coast-Walker theater.

Movie Stars to Attend
Several popular stage and screen stars also are expected to attend the hi-jinks.

Each Forty and Eight member will be allowed to bring as a guest one member of the American Legion. In this way, scores of ex-service men who have never been present at a Forty and Eight meeting will be given the opportunity of attending.

Because of the large crowd of Forty and Eight, and American Legion members expected to attend, those attending are urged to be present on time, as the first of the vaudeville numbers will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

Signs and arrows directing visiting members of the organization to the fair grounds have been placed along the roads by the Orange county Forty and Eight.

THREE ADMITTED TO BROTHERHOOD

Three new members were taken into the Fraternal Brotherhood Friday night, when members met at El Camino hall. They were Clarence Hidenour, Royce Vandewalker and Vernon Poe.

During the business meeting, a report of the membership contest was given, in which it was shown that the team composed of the feminine members of the lodge was in the lead.

A committee was appointed, with Roy Dysart as chairman, to see that appropriate music is provided for the Friday night meetings.

Guests for the evening included Capt. L. W. Traiger, Floyd Clymer and Mr. and Mrs. Wilkie, of Long Beach.

A social hour followed the business meeting. Dancing was enjoyed. The entertainment committee served refreshments.

Racing Is Halted At Tijuana Track

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Feb. 15.—Racing at Tijuana will be halted temporarily, it was announced here today by President James W. Croft, of the Jockey club. No damage was done to the track. Croft stated, but washouts along the San Diego and Arizona railway and highways, made it impossible for fans to get to the track. Racing will be resumed just as soon as the damage is repaired.

WOULD PLACE RURAL SCHOOLS UNDER COUNTY

Designed to bring about a more equitable distribution of school revenues for support of rural schools in each county is a proposal to abolish rural school districts and to have the same administered from the county superintendent's office, according to word received at the office of R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools.

According to Mitchell, such a move is favored by Mark Keppel, county superintendent of schools in Los Angeles county. The poverty of certain rural school districts with its blighting effect upon educational facilities, is the principal reason for the change.

With rural schools managed from the county superintendent's office, rich districts could be made to help support education in the poorer districts, thus equalizing as well as improving the opportunities offered all children in a county.

Superintendent Mitchell has addressed a communication to his Los Angeles colleague, requesting further information on the subject. Commenting upon the proposal, Mitchell said that he is not prepared to go as far as the Los Angeles school man in recommending the abolition of all rural school districts, but would favor the elimination of local management in districts where less than eight teachers are employed. Such a reorganization not only would prove more advantageous from an economical standpoint, but would serve the best interests of education.

In this connection, it was learned that the conditions of certain rural schools, due to limited finances, have been made the subject of inquiry by the California Congress of Parents and Teachers. A survey made by that organization shows that there are not less than 1384 one-room schools in the state.

SENATE FARM AID BILL SUBSTITUTED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The house today voted, 291 to 160, to substitute the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill for a sister measure already under consideration.

The overwhelming vote, which was taken as a division vote without formal record, came as a surprise, as it had been expected by opponents of the McNary-Haugen bill would make a determined effort to prevent its substitution.

The vote was regarded in some circles as indicating that the ranks of opponents of farm relief were breaking.

Other sources, however, took it as indicating opponents of the measure did not want to "tip" their hands by showing their strength on a test vote, but were reserving their strength for the final ballot on the bill.

Paul Berlenbach to Live In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 15.—Paul Berlenbach, former world's light heavyweight champion, will arrive here today to take up his permanent residence. Prior to his recent eastern trip in which Mike McTigue, the venerable Celt, upped the dope bucket, Berlenbach purchased a home, where he will hear stories of klieg eyes rather than the resin dust from the roped arena.

NEGRO ROBBER OF GRAVES DEFIANT

FERNDALE, Mich., Feb. 15.—In an attempt to force from James Coyner, negro inmate of the Indiana prison, a confession to murders of at least four women, Oakland county officers today will confront him with evidence found in his trunk here.

Deputy Sheriff Frank Greeman left last night for Michigan City, Ind., with the trunk and its grewsome contents. There he will be met by Chief of Police George W. Smith, of Ferndale, and Clyde Underwood, Oakland county prosecutor. Smith and Underwood questioned Coyner in his cell yesterday.

"I'm a defiant fellow," the giant negro is reported to have told them. "I could tell you a lot about murders and murderers if I wanted to, but you won't get anything out of me."

Coyner was sentenced to the Indiana penitentiary, last November, for from three to 10 years for grave robbery.

Offers go upstream for the summer and down to the river mouth for the winter.

HEATED WORDS MARK SESSION OF SANTA ANA JUNIOR DIVISION

Letter from One of Organizers of New Political Body Cause of Argument

NO ACTION IS TAKEN ON PROPOSED PROBE

Members Divided on Question of Whether Chamber Should Investigate

What started out to be a pleasant session, marked with loving kindness and brotherly love, one toward another, on the part of junior chamber of commerce members, meeting last night, ended up with heated words, fingers waving in the air and repeated efforts on the part of speakers to be heard at the same time.

An enjoyable program had been presented, several projects of a civic uplift nature had been discussed and approved and to all intent and purposes the meeting was about to adjourn in peace and harmony when a letter from G. G. Lattimer, leader of the junior organization of the Citizens' league, was read.

Lattimer, who addressed his epistle to Secretary Ridley Smith, wanted to know who was responsible for the "proposed investigation" of his league by the junior chamber of commerce; he insisted that the members of the league had the highest motive; he declared that those opposed to the league believed in "ruin or ruin" and he offered the suggestion that the "investigation" would only result in the junior chamber being put in a position of embarrassment.

Previously a letter had been read from an official of the Marbelite company, in which it was stated that Lattimer no longer was connected with that company as an employee and that the company did not approve of its employees taking part in political controversies.

Crawford Starts Argument
Immediately upon the reading of the Lattimer letter, L. R. Crawford, former president of the junior chamber, gained the floor and remarked that a citizen had approached him yesterday and inquired if the president of the junior chamber was attempting to use the organization as a weapon for political purposes. Crawford insisted that the junior chamber was not entitled, under its by-laws, to take part in political matters and he wanted to know where the reported proposed investigation had originated.

Stanley Clem, also a former president of the organization, took a stand in defense of the "proposed investigation," saying that the junior chamber, as a civic duty, should become acquainted with the composition and the aims of organizations hoping to have a major vote in the political destinies of the city.

B. E. Switzer, vice president, could not agree with Clem, and suggested that it would be the better part of valor for the junior chamber to discreetly drop any suggestion of an investigation.

A motion to lay the letter on the table unanswered finally prevailed and, as far as the proposed investigation is concerned, junior chamber members today admitted that it was a dead proposition.

OLD THEATER PASSES

TORONTO, Feb. 15.—The boards
where trod such actors as Sir
Henry Irving, Sir John Forbes-Robertson and Ellen Terry, are to be torn down to make way for a garage and parking station. The Grand Opera house, Toronto's oldest theatre, has been dark almost continuously since its former owner, Ambrose J. Small, disappeared in 1919. No trace ever was found of Small.

AT THE THEATERS

WEST COAST-WALKER

"The Demi-Bride," the picture that shows for the last time tonight at the West Coast-Walker theater, proves itself to be one of the outstanding comedy dramas of the year, with Norma Shearer and Lew Cody heading a remarkable cast.

Norma Shearer has plenty of competition in love making honors in "The Demi-Bride," however, with Carmel Myers and the equally seductive film beauty, Dorothy Sebastian, using all their wiles on the handsome, young and middle-aged men in the cast.

On the stage is Fanchon and Marco's "idea" featuring "those two boys from Hollywood," Armstrong and Phelps. These two boys have in the past two days proven themselves to be Fanchon and Marco's leading mirth-makers.
Accompanying this versatile pair is Mable Blondell, late of the New York musical comedies, a clever miss who has a way all her own to sing novelty songs and do surprising jazz dances; Arthur Furely, who plays selections that seem almost impossible to play on a harmonica.

Jack Bu and the band furnish further entertainment to the program.

NEW YORKER PLEASED WITH ORANGE COUNTY

Editor Register: Yes, I am from the east, right from rainy New York, and I came here with the expectations of coming to a land of sunshine, with none or very little rain, but to my surprise we have had more or less rain ever since my visit started.

I neither profess to be a "rain man," nor a "weather breeder," but it seems wherever you go rain is sure to follow. It rained nearly all the year 1926 in New York, but hasn't rained much since I left. But to my sorrow and the natives' glory, it has rained and is raining yet here. So, if you natives get too much moisture from now on, I would advise you to send me home.

I hope you folks don't get the wrong conception of me, for I am not of the disgruntled type and have no reason to complain, because I came here to make my home, and, up to the present time, have enjoyed your sunshine and your great outdoors immensely.

It surely seems better to me to see oranges and lemons hanging from the trees, beautiful flowers dotted about, and gardens being planted, rather than barren trees of the east, with snow piled up to your neck.

I noticed in an article in your paper of February 11, entitled,
"This Terrible Land of Ours—Thousands Out of Work. Why?"
In fact, I know the unemployed here are many, but no more than there are in many large eastern cities and I have yet to see a soup line here, which is very common in our eastern cities. Most of the unemployed here are of the wandering eastern type, who are too particular what they do—looking for the gold in the streets
which they came here to pick up.
I was somewhat of this type, but quickly noticing my mistake, took any job I could obtain and had very little trouble in securing work. My time is so taken up that I have very little time to find fault with the beautiful climate of Southern California.

sician, with his nurse or anyone, so that arrangements had been made have him leave the hospital, but each time Miller has "decided to

The roll of bills on his person at worry him not in the least, and apparently he is satisfied to remain in the hospital indefinitely.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—Ace Hudkins, the "Nebraska wildcat," is out to add to his recent impressive string of victories when he meets Billy Atkinson in a 10-round main event at the Olympic auditorium tonight. The "wise-ones" who of late have evidenced frequent erroneous judgment have installed Hudkins as a slight favorite.

NEWS OF LOCAL SCHOOLS

JULIA LATHROP

The seventh grade home making class, under Miss Foster's direction is greatly interested in this semester's work. The first work of the class has been a study of a modest five room home. Beautifully illustrated notebooks have been handed in showing examples of such homes.

Next a study of the individual room is to be made with special regard to its care and furnishings. Eighth grade sewing classes are working on the fundamentals at present, which includes much hard work, but its members are looking forward to starting work on the sewing machine in the near future.

Ninth grade girls have begun pattern drafting and a study of sewing machine, its parts and the care that must be taken of it. Practice in stitching lines and curves give the desired preliminary work for the first garments which will be started soon.

Notebooks and cards with samples of standard cotton materials suitable for night dresses, house dresses and kimono are being prepared by members of the class who may choose any one of these three for the first real work on garments.

New Language Course Offered
In the eighth grade of the Julia C. Lathrop junior high school students are introducing a try-out course in the language department which has been worked out by Miss Hart and will be under her supervision. Its purpose is to give pupils a chance to test themselves in language work as well as to give the teachers an opportunity to find out which students are best adapted to language study before they enter an intensive study of either language taught in the junior high.

The first semester course will consist of an introductory course of several weeks on the origin and development of language. The remaining weeks of the quarter will consist of ten lessons in Latin and the second quarter will be a series of ten lessons in the Spanish language.

There are now two classes in general language; one in the low eight and one in the high eight divisions with a limited enrollment because of lack of room.

Writing Certificates
The following students have earned writing certificates from Miss Spencer of Los Angeles, Miss Wherry, of the efforts of the student of both schools toward perfecting their letter forms. ROOSEVELT

The high sixth grade of Roosevelt school has just finished installing a set of buzzers in the school. The system is a complete affair and a marvel of workmanship.

There are three pearl push buttons on Miss Verna Wells' floor leading from nine buzzers in each teacher's room. There is a different signal for each teacher. In this way Miss Wells, or any one answering the telephone, is saved the trouble and time of walking to the teacher's room to call her.

The project is the boys' own. It started some time ago in the Venture Forth club, sponsored by Mrs. Wolf, the class teacher. Each child had brought something that he had made at home and explained it. Jack MacFarlane showed and told about a buzzer he had made. Miss Wells was so pleased with it that she said she would like to have something like that to call teachers to the phone, for it would be a great help and time saver.

The boys with one accord said, "We'll make you a set of buzzers." Accordingly all the boys who knew anything about electricity were put on the committee. The class decided that they would give the set of buzzers to the school as the class gift.

The boys drew plans, measured the building, and worked out a system for installing the buzzers. They found out that they needed the money, and to finance the deal the class had two candy sales at school.

Later the boys had two evening meetings at Jack MacFarlane's home to talk things over, and on Friday after school they went down town and bought their material. With $12.50 they bought seven batteries, nine buzzers, three push buttons, 500 feet of wire, and three packages of double insulated staples.

On Saturday morning the boys went to the school house, and put all the things together in their right places, and installed the buzzers. When it was all finished it was inspected by I. W. MacFarlane, Miss Wells and J. A. Cranston.

The boys most responsible for the buzzer were Jack MacFarlane, chairman, Kenneth Georgeson, Raymond Floyd, Gerald Crawford and Gordon Beisel.

Visit Bakery
On Wednesday afternoon, the high 3 and low 4 class visited the Cream-Krust bakery and on Friday morning the low 5 and high 4 went. Both rooms had had a reading lesson about bread, so that Miss Cambil took them to the bakery and Mr. Hall showed them how bread is made.

Venture Forth Club
The Venture Forth club held its meeting on Thursday in the class room. The following officers were elected to attend to program business: Ruth Cummings, Dorothy Pickle, George Dorsey, Hymen Brown and Dale Litchford.

The latest meeting was about "Men That Made Peace."

Dorothy Pickle.
Lincoln Birthday Program
On Friday at 11:30 o'clock all the children went to the kindergarten for the "Lincoln Birthday program." The following program was given by the children:

Flag salute, whole school; song, "Our Flag" by the high first and low second; "Story of the Flag," read by Marion Plotke; piano solo, "Love Song" by Cadman; Winifred Triplett; "Love of Country," high fifth and low sixth; "America," low first; recitation, "Our Flag," Billy Walter; song, "Battle Hymn of Republic," upper grades; "Life of Lincoln," read by Miss Lindsay; "Star Spangled Banner," whole school.

John Muir

The sixth grade of the John Muir school is organizing a club. The following officers have been elected: President, Ralph Eaden; vice president, Don Stevens; secretary, Wilma Rice; treasurer, Charles Bright; reporter, Sherman Mashburn; chairman of program committee is Finley McIntosh; Earnest Schultz, Helen Reid, Maryanna Deaver are the other members.

Sherman Mashburn.
Birthday Party
The kindergarten class enjoyed a birthday party last Monday, given in honor of Paul Cleary, who was 5 years old. Paul chose the songs and games for the day and his mother treated the class to home-made cake, ice cream and candy.

PARENT TEACHERS
Frances Willard
Frances E. Willard P.-T. A. met Thursday afternoon for the regular meeting and founders day celebration. Miss Esther Jean Davis of the music department presented a short program by the Willard members of the Santa Ana Boys' chorus. A duet, "Lullaby Watch," was sung by Ann Herrin and Ernest Smith. "Santa Ana, the Eden of the World," was rendered by the chorus, with the audience joining in the refrain. The boys also sang "Aurora Lee." All were well received by the audience.

Mrs. Ora Hienle, the president, read an article by Mrs. G. P. Hill, first president of the Santa Ana P.-T. A., describing the beginning and organization of the association in Orange county. She also read another paper which went into greater detail concerning the many things accomplished by the P.-T. A. since its inception. Three former presidents, Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. Walbridge and Mrs. Stevenson also spoke on their work in the P.-T. A., particularly that at Willard. J. A. Cranston, superintendent of schools, followed with a short speech in appreciation of the P.-T. A., in which he stressed the value of co-operation between the parents and teachers.

The meeting adjourned to be followed by a social hour, when refreshments of home-made cake and punch were served by Mrs. Mable Lowell and Mrs. Finestwood Bell, low eighth grade mothers.

Jack Wright; girl's athletic manager, Vivian Smith.

The 6c class has elected the following officers: President, Arthur Cummings; vice-president, Ernest Smith; secretary, Gerald Manfull; treasurer, George Haskell; reporter, Pauline Graham; boy's athletic manager, Ted Pinlin; girl's athletic manager, Delores Velarde.

Booster Club Meets
The Willard Booster club held its monthly assembly program Thursday morning. The new officers for this semester were installed and took charge. Norman Paul is the new president; Bruce Tarver, vice-president; Gerald Manfull, secretary. Several musical numbers were enjoyed. The school orchestra played two numbers and the boys' glee club sang two songs. Robert Tannebaum favored the boys with a clarinet solo.

Roland Dye, Santa Ana Boy Scout leader gave a very interesting talk to the boys on "Things That Make for Success in Life." He also gave an interesting sketch of the Boy Scout organization.

Class Election
The 5 b's have recently elected the officers of their class for this semester.

The following pupils have been chosen: president, Norma Sifton; vice president, Fayette Blower; secretary, Alice Jacobson; treasurer, Reiko Kadowaki; reporter, Jessie Warburton; girl's athletic manager, Naomi Katz; boy's athletic manager, James Hall.

The class feels confident that they have chosen girls and boys who will fill these offices successfully. —Jessie Warburton.

Four-A Election
The 4a class has held their quarterly election of officers. They are: president, Gene Hall; vice-president, Ethel Ellis; secretary-treasurer, Kenneth Beard, and Lillian Hurwitz, reporter. Rene Regal is to be boys' athletic leader, and Margaret Huston will manage the girls' athletics.

With this fine staff of officers to lead them the 4a's feel sure of many good times in the future, the first of which is scheduled as a "Valentine" party. —Lillian Hurwitz.

Welfare Club
The last meeting of the Willard Welfare club was held February 9. The initiation consisted of each new member making a speech, to which the new girls responded nicely.

Mrs. Thatcher favored with an interesting and appropriate talk on Abraham Lincoln's time, illustrating it with two newspapers published in 1862. She also showed us a highly valued watch that belongs to Mr. Kellogg, having come down to him from his grandfather. An interesting feature about the very beautiful watch was that it had been carried through the Battle of Gettysburg by Major-

FRANCES WILLARD

Code of Conduct
For 12 weeks every home room section in the Willard school will be studying and working on a Willard code of conduct. Each week a discussion will be conducted in the home room period about one of the 12 virtues which have been chosen to make up the code. This discussion and study undoubtedly will be of untold value to the uplift of the school and already the pupils are enthusiastically working on this week's topic which is industry. Each pupil has been supplied with a copy of the 12 virtues and a brief definition of each. After the subject under discussion has been thoroughly discussed in the home rooms the pupils will each contribute brief statements showing the relation of the particular virtue to the school life of the pupil. The two best statements from each room will be given to a committee of teachers and students, chosen by the best statement which will appear on the finished code of conduct. The finished code will be patterned somewhat after Hutchins' Moral Code for School Children, except for the fact that this one will be made purely for the Willard school and by the Willard pupils. Each statement finally chosen will show the name of the writer. The 12 virtues with the brief definitions for study are as follows:

Industry, is working with a love of work.

Orderliness, is doing things in order with system.

Honesty, is truth-telling and fair-dealing.

Economy, is careful and thrifty management of means.

Cheerfulness, is a bright, hopeful, happy disposition.

Self-control, is keeping all the desires normal or perfectly natural.

Courtesy, is showing respect and kindness to others.

Justice, is giving to others what is due.

Courage, is a heart to meet danger.

Loyalty, is being faithful to a trust of any kind.

Generosity, is greatness of soul.

Conscientiousness, is obeying the dictates of conscience.

Willard Office
Teachers announce that they are glad to welcome the students that have been absent for a week or more on account of sickness. Russell Mathews returned after being afflicted with the pink eye for two weeks. Melvin Migent visited the school last Thursday. He has been sick ever since the holidays and is still unable to stay in school.

The last report of Jose Ojeda, ninth grade boy, who has been confined to his bed for over ten weeks at the county hospital for a cracked hip, is up and around on crutches. All are sorry that Werneth Bickel is in bed on account of a broken leg. Leslie Holmes had his tonsils removed last week and is getting along very nicely. Reiko Kadowaki is confined to her bed with a severe cold. Nobuko Kadowaki was absent for a week but returned in very much improved health. Last week several boys of the Willard Service club visited George Scales in his new home at Hewes Park and found him feeling quite well. He has been absent from school for about two months.

The following pupils transferred to other schools last week: Margaret McIntyre, ninth grader, transferred to San Clemente and will attend San Juan Capistrano high school; Glenora Hathaway, ninth grader, transferred to Red Bluff, California; Ralph Drenan, seventh grader, transferred to Tustin; Frank McMullen, ninth grader, transferred to New Elly, Nevada; Opal Vulbrandt, seventh grader, transferred to Culver City; Ruby Alsop, seventh grader, transferred to Costa Mesa.

Willard Boy Wins Prize
Maynard Workman of the Frances Willard school won a prize of $5 which was offered by the Henry Cycle company to the first boy to make a speed of 60 miles per hour in a still bicycle race. Bicycles were put on rollers and speedometers attached to the wheel so the speed of the wheel could be accurately determined. Maynard was the only boy to make this record.

Class Officers
At a meeting of the 3b class the following officers were elected: president, Velma Smith; vice-president, Jack Wright; secretary, Mary Robinson; treasurer, Karl Wenzlaff; boy's athletic manager,

Treat Yourself to Lamb

NEARLY everybody likes lamb. Roast leg of lamb and broiled lamb chops are among the most favored of all meat cuts. Lamb stew, made from the breast or shoulder, while pleasingly economical, is also a choice delicacy.

Lamb, like all meats, is easily digested and it has a flavor which appeals to almost everyone.

Try a stew made from tender lamb tonight or tomorrow night. It is a real bargain and a great treat.

Man Needs Meat—

Man eats animal and vegetable foods. The vegetarian animal has a digestive system designed to handle bulky foods in quantity. The digestive apparatus of man requires that part of his food be concentrated and of animal origin, such as meat.

Bear Hunting

By GEORGE BRIGGS

(Here with, The Register presents the story of the most recent big game hunting expedition of George Briggs and Howard Timmons, Santa Ana sportsmen. The articles will appear in this newspaper.)

The weather was cold these nights with spring freezing over hard. The next morning, Timmons and Dick took a pack horse and went off after their head while John and I skirted along the barren to strike up where we supposed Howard to have killed his moose.

We were probably a half a mile from timber, well out on the mesa that gradually rose to the higher level caribou barren, when we reached a considerable round knoll, got off the horses and looked over the country.

This was a beautiful and ideal game country. Below, tongues of timber cut into park-like grassy meadows with lakes dotted everywhere, some large, others small, while to our right the country rose gradually to bold rocky hills, perhaps 10 miles away.

We led the horses down off the knoll and tied them to brush in the swale and started our stalk of two and half or three miles, keeping out of sight as best we could. When about a quarter of a mile from where we had them located we crawled out on a point behind a rock to plan an approach.

We both laughed for it was a cow moose with two calves. We hadn't seen the cow before and the calves looked black against the snow patch. Something to interest us anyway. We returned to the horses and continued along the mesa edge for three or four miles, then gradually swung in toward timber again, getting off the horses to look over the open parks below us.

On one of these occasions, John polished blades of a bull moose using the glasses, picked up the lying down in some high brush and after an examination, we both concluded he was good enough for closer inspection. The palms stood well up and above the brush and looked huge. We led and tied the horses in a little neck of timber and started on our approach a mile or more away.

Unusually mild weather permitted golf to be played at Halfway, N. S., during the greater part of January this year.

Sixty thousand dollars is the paltry stipend Tyus Raymond Cobb is to draw from the Philadelphia Athletics for this summer's ball-playing. Cleared by Judge Landis of charges of bribery, Ty shot a few turkeys down Georgia way and then journeyed back to Philadelphia to execute the contract which relieves him of the Detroit Tiger's stripes. Watching him a bit enviously as he signs is Cornelius McGillicuddy, the Athletics' manager, whom you know better as Connie Mack.

COUNTY COURT FIDEL LA BARBA CHAMPIONSHIP FLOORED FOUR YET UNDECIDED TIMES. LOSES

Although Orange high school is a mathematical certainty to win first place in its division of the Orange County Basketball league, whether or not it humbles Fullerton Friday, Brea, leading the other half of the circuit, is not as comfortably situated because the Oilers must trip Garden Grove to clinch their title.

Games this week conclude the organization's regular schedule but winners in the two sections will engage in a series later to determine the league's entries in the C. I. F. playoffs.

Orange is undefeated in its division of the Class A race, being trailed by Anaheim, Fullerton and Huntington Beach.

Brea is leading the contenders in the other section of the Class A campaign but has only a slight advantage over Garden Grove and Tustin and a Garden Grove victory over the Oilers Friday will allow Tustin, as well as Garden Grove, to tie for the leadership.

Fullerton has virtually clinched first place in the Class B and Class C races in the Fullerton-Anaheim-Orange-Huntington Beach league. Garden Grove looks a likely champion in the Class B division and Tustin has clinched the Class C title in the Tustin-Brea-Garden Grove-San Juan Capistrano section.

BRIDGEPORT IS POLY CAGEMEN BACK OF IDOL. NEAR END OF JACK DELANEY LONG SEASON

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Feb. 15.—All steamed up about its foremost citizen, Ovila, Chapdelaine, better known as Jack Delaney, Bridgeport today presented the atmosphere of New Haven on the eve of the "Big Three" football game.

No one in Bridgeport doubts that Delaney will knock out the 200-pound Jim Maloney, Boston heavyweight, in their fight in New York Friday night and take the big step towards a match with Gene Tunney for the world championship.

The atmosphere of confidence which saturates the town hangs over the apartment where Delaney is living with his family and the dingy little gymnasium where he is doing his preparatory work.

Jack is Man of Woods. Delaney is strictly a man of the woods in temperament and inclination, and although in personal appearance he seems built for the ball room and high society.

Point him out on the street to the average man and you would be told on a guess that he was a matinee idol or a movie hero. "How do I feel about the fight?" Delaney said. "Well, I never was more sure of anything in my life. I don't see how I can lose and I am not saying this because you asked me. My reason is that I never felt so well physically and that is all that is necessary. I know I have the mechanical equipment and if the old wind and the old legs are there, I'm there, and I am there."

Delaney in Shape. "Maloney bigger than I am? Yes, and what of it? I don't look like a baby, do I? Maloney may have 25 pounds on me but I'm strong as he is and he won't twist me around."

Delaney looks to be in splendid condition. He may be a little fine in fact; his trainers have ordered him to reduce weight so that he will have some weight to work on in the last days of training.

He is possessed of confidence bordering on the "deadly stuff" that influenced Tunney before he beat Dempsey and after watching him and listening to him it is hard to picture him as anything but a winner.

You'd Be SURPRISED!
BY BILLY EVANS

During his connection with the American league as a member of the Chicago and New York clubs, "Ping" Bodie was a most colorful figure.

Ping came to the majors noted for his batting, and while he didn't hit home run spree as a big leaguer, he did some mighty robust hitting.

It is a rather interesting fact that when he made his New York debut with Chicago he came through with a homer, his first time at bat, thereby living up to all the advance notices the New York scribes had given him.

While Ping was a great copy producer, little of it had brain power or baseball strategy behind it. Ping broke into the limelight as a result of great mechanical ability in the field and at the bat rather than through cunning.

However, Bodie figured in a novel play in which I happened to be one of the umpires. It rather belied the thought that Ping wasn't a smart ball player.

New York was playing Cleveland. Bodie essayed a steal. As he slid into second, it was evident the fielder had dropped the ball trying to touch him. It was a hot day and a cloud of dust momentarily obscured the runner and fielder.

In a second Bodie was on his feet, headed for third while shortstop and second baseman were trying to figure out where the ball was.

All the time I was watching the actions of Bodie. As he touched home plate I noted that he raised his left arm and the ball fell to the ground.

I immediately sent Bodie back to second base. After the game he confided to me that as the fielder dropped the ball it nestled under his arm tightly over it and proceeded on his way to the plate. "If I got away with it," was Bodie's only comment.

The incident convinced me that baseball wasn't entirely a matter of brawn with Bodie.

A. A. REFUSES DRAFT

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—The American association refused to accept the draft agreements with the major leagues at a meeting of the club members. The meeting voted seven to one against accepting the draft. The one club voting in favor was Columbus, owned by the Cincinnati National league club. The present draft price proposed by the major leagues is $7500.

SEVEN VETERAN
ATHLETES BACK
ON CINDERPATH

Bear, Breeding and Corps
Of Promising Talent to Fill Shoes of Graduates

Loud laments ament the passing of celebrated stars—particularly with reference to the present track season—lead a casual observer to the conclusion that the present interscholastic generation exhausts the athletic possibilities of the universe.

For instance, Santa Ana high school is categorically barred from even a whispering chance for the Coast Preparatory league championship this spring because Santa Ana has lost a number of better than ordinary cinderpath talent. Such a reckoning does not take into account the fact that there are just as good fish in the sea as have been caught—and if that doesn't look like a fact, here are a few things to remember:

Bear Faster Than Ever. Harvey Bear, Poly track captain and the fastest thing on two legs at the big white school, was good enough to finish a bang-up fourth in the 220-yard dash in the Southern California interscholastic last season, and he is speedier than ever this year.

Harold Breeding, the foremost distance runner in Santa Ana high school history, should establish records in the mile during the coming campaign that will remain for two years to come. Breeding ran the mile in 4 minutes, 38 seconds in the Coast Prep meet last year and certainly didn't do any worse than that when he finished a close second to Ferguson, of Inglewood, in the Southern California and California Prep affairs later in the spring. It would not surprise close track followers here if Breeding shades 4:30 during 1927.

Oliver Used to Winners. Five other lettermen, making seven wearers of the coveted S. A. in all, will be back on the cinder path this semester and Coach "Tex" Oliver, who had a habit of developing championship teams during his regime at San Diego, sees no good reason for taking the count of 10 yet.

Terry Stephenson, sprinter; Ernie Velarie, low hurdler and broad jumper; Bob Jacques, high jumper; John Moffatt, hurdler and high jumper; are the other veterans and, while they are not as sure point-snatchers as Bear and Breeding, they will collect many digits for the home squad before they pass out of the Poly athletic picture via graduation route in June.

HIGH SCHOOL CLASS MEET
FINALS POSTPONED

Track conditions were such today that Coach "Tex" Oliver postponed the finals of the annual Santa Ana high school novice interclass meet until Thursday or Friday, depending on weather conditions. Juniors hold a seven-point lead over the seniors in this affair, with the sophomores far in the rear.

Postponement of the interclass finals has so disorganized the plans of the Poly coaching staff that the Santa Ana team may not enter the annual Orange relay carnival at San Bernardino Saturday, final warm-up meet before the opening of the Coast league schedule.

Weather conditions will influence Oliver in determining whether to send a squad to San Bernardino, he said.

THE ROMANCE OF AMERICA: Lewis and Clark

Sketches By Kroesen
Synopsis By Braucher

Indians stood on the banks and watched as the explorers in their canoes of burned-out logs braved the foaming, whirling stretch of the Columbia's rapids. The boats danced and leaped like straws in the angry current. It was a test of nerve. They took it bravely. Just above the Cascades they landed their rock-scarred craft.

Another portage followed, more days of bitter toil, and the canoes were launched on the Columbia for the last lap.

At the river's mouth storms that had broken the bounds of the Pacific rocked their frail craft. Miraculously they carried on.

Then, in November, they beached their boats where the Columbia kisses the Pacific. Camp was pitched on a high cliff near the future site of Astoria. Sacajawea's dear wish to see the "great salt water" was realized. For hours the Indian mother gazed into the mysteries of the mighty ocean. (Continued)

THE TINYMITES
BY HAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The baby ostrich sure was queer. It eyed the Tynmites with fear and then was Scouty loudly said, "We'd best be on our way. The mother ostrich may get mad, and if she does that will be sad. She'll bite us, so we'd best be off, is all I've got to say."

Just then the mother ostrich came and seemed to wonder who he was, for breaking up her monstrous egg. Oh, she was mad indeed. She grabbed poor Clowny by the waist and tossed him in the air in haste. He landed in a sandpile, but was glad that he was freed.

The other Tynmites scampered round, and got away with leap and bound. As soon as he was able Clowny also disappeared. The bunch all ran for 'bout a mile, then got together after while, and quite agreed that ostriches should always be much feared.

They rested for a spell, to talk.

Then Copy spied a long board walk. "I wonder where that goes to," he remarked. "Let's go and see. There's nothing here that we can do. Perhaps it leads to some thing new. If anybody's curious, well, kindly follow me."

The band all calmly trudged along. They laughed and played and sang a song. Then Scouty said, "I see a man. I wonder if he's kind. No one has ever hurt us yet, and neither will this man, I'll bet. Let's ask this fellow who he is. I don't think he will mind."

Then as they walked and closer drew, just who the man was they all knew. He had a lot of big balloons, all tied to little sticks. Then, Scouty said, "We'll watch the man, and be as careful as we can." And then he warned poor Clowny not to pull off any tricks.

(The Tynmites start on another trip in the next story.)

BEAUTY CHATS

ANSWERED LETTERS

Miss B. C. S.—If the double chin is the result of your gaining too much weight, reduce it by massage and then an ice rub afterward to help contract the skin and close the pores. If you are losing the line under your chin because all the facial muscles are beginning to sag, you will have to build up all the tissues of face and throat by any kind of stimulating process, such as massage or just tapping the skin to bring about an invigoration. A building cream helps some also as the pores take it up and help to fatten.

Thankful—You did not give your height, but a girl of 21 years, weighing 125 pounds should be about five feet, four inches. Bust and hip measure should be almost the same, and since your hips are three inches more than this, I imagine you are slightly overweight, and a loss of five pounds would help you to attain a better proportion.

Bashful—It would be a great loss to you if you left school because of self-consciousness when reciting in class. Why not explain all the to your teacher and for she must understand there are many others at your age that are just as sensitive when hearing their voices. Any of the athletics will help you, as will any of the competitive games, for you will lose yourself to competition with the many, and will soon forget all about yourself entirely.

Mrs. A. M. L. G.—I should think that you were too tired at night to do fancy work and that accounts for the numbness in your hands. Evidently you are not troubled in this way during the day and must be working during the evening. A building cream is not essential and should not be done at the expense of the nerves. Relax in the evenings by reading, entertaining your friends or go out to some entertainment; do this, at least until you have overcome this tendency to numbness in the evening.

Lillian—Your digestion may be at fault, but there is some internal disorder that is causing your to secrete too much oil. You can rub the oil out of your hair by using soft towels or old soft muslin, and in this way prevent such frequent shampoos.

Letty—Try rolling to help reduce your hips. To do this, lie flat on the floor with arms stretched high above your head, and then grasp hands together to tense all the muscles of arms, waist and hips. Roll to right and then left or over and over, until muscles are fully exercised.

Janette—Try peroxide again to bleach the hair on your legs and be sure it is fresh this time.

Tomorrow—Wavy Hair

The WOMAN'S DAY
by Allene Sumner

"Why weren't you here to meet us?" This says one of the charming Mrs. Roosevelt who went hunting with their respective husbands, Theodore and Kermit Roosevelt, was the greeting given them when, traveling half way around the world to meet their hunter husbands, they arrived at the trying spot a few hours later than their said husbands.

The husbands, publicly announces Mrs. Roosevelt, saw no reason why the wives should not have taken an earlier steamer which would have made them wait 30 days for the husbands, rather than make the husbands wait eight hours for the wives. Not all wives can get vengeance by telling the world about their husband's pettiness. Most of them must suffer in silence, so this Mrs. hasn't so much to sulk about!

Keeping a Genius
"Don't mind having your presence taken for granted," intimates Mrs. Joseph Conrad, widow of the great novelist, in a recently published list of "don'ts" for wives of artists. Then follow the usual "don'ts" weep, reproach him, and make scenes. Don't fail to be devoted and tactful. Don't fail to give him the proper working environment, etc." Her rules are only those which are always given all wives, those of garden variety husbands as well as those of celebrities.

And, as usual, I am mad. These lists of "don'ts" for wives always anger me with my reaction of wonder at the omission of "don't lists" for husbands, and society's bland assumption that the success-of-marriage job is the woman's job only.

A Born Mother
Because "I needed the money so," as she simply puts it, Ernestine Schuman-Heink, the great contralto, sang a strenuous role at the opera a few hours before "my Hans" was born, walked home, "because I had no money for a carriage," and paid a mid-wife $2.50 for bringing her child into the world. At about this time the sheriff came and took all the furniture for unpaid bills.

This is just one incident in a currently published account of one of the most courageous lives ever lived. What moves one more than anything else is the great singer's eternal affectionate mention of the ever-recurring babies that cost her one job after another and drove herself and other babies to near starvation. But the incident always ends, "there was my little Hans by my side, and I knew that somehow the way out would come."

Mothers must indeed be born and not made!

A THOUGHT

Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.—1 Cor. 10:12.

Everything is sweetened by risk.—Alexander Smith.

TO PRESS WOOL

Always press wool clothes through a damp cloth, on the wrong side. Velvets, suedes and duvetyns must never be pressed, but must be lightly steamed. Furs will shrivel and fall to pieces if heat is applied in any form.

NARCISSUS BULBS

Narcissus bulbs grown in pebbles should be kept in a dark cool place for a week before they are set in the sunlight. Otherwise they will go to foliage and refuse to bloom.

THE DANGER

The father said: "Walk straight ahead. And none will do you wrong, if you walk this way from day to day. You will prosper and grow strong." But later on, when he was gone a stranger came along.

And the stranger said: "Don't walk ahead. That way is long and slow. It is worn and old, and its joys are cold. And a better way I know, just follow me, my boy, and see where the clever people go."

And the boy forgot what his father taught. And the lessons he had learned. He made his choice to the stranger's voice, And out of the road he turned. For a stranger's word is often heard When a truer friend's is spurned.

"Dear Lord!" cries man, "I will and can. The truth for my son provide, I will be his friend to the journey's end, His comrade and his guide, But I live in fear, from year to year Of the stranger he meets outside."

How to Get a Neat Neck
Lots of Exercise Is the Answer of NinonBy NINON
For NEA Service

Preliminary "Necking" Act

It isn't surprising that the girl who sits all day bent over her typewriter, should form the bad habit of keeping her head too much in one position thus "tightening" the muscles of her neck and shoulders from lack of exercise.

But it is rather surprising that a well-pocketed matron who has nothing to do but ride about in her limousine should develop an unbeautiful dowager's hump, which is just another manifestation of the lack of exercise.

Try to Find One
In these nervous and hectic times it is difficult to find a woman who carries her head beautifully, and neck that is the result of perfect muscle co-ordination. So it is well to limber up and relax often.

One of the simplest exercises is just to work out the stiffness by heavy massage at the point where the head joins the spine. Place both of your hands at the base of your brain and work upward as if you were trying to lift your head off your spine, using firm rotary strokes. Then work downward pressing your finger tips heavily into the neck muscles. Those muscles on the shoulder, too, need to be caressed and stimulated.

Stops Headaches
Often a headache that is merely from overstrain may be "worked out" by this method, and certain mental kinks and worries can also be ironed out.

I advise every woman who comes under the "sedentary worker" classification to make this beauty rite a daily obligation.

A simple exercise is to drop your head on your shoulder, then, as relaxed as possible, describe a circle with your head, slowly turning first to the right and then to the left.

So Clean Inside, No Fear of Perspiration Offense, However Over-Heated

Once a person realizes the wonderful properties in cascara, or other laxative in the market would ever be considered. It's no trick to "clean out the bowels." Dozens of things will do that. But a little natural cascara purifies the system clear through. Cleanses even the pores of your skin. Renders perspiration as inoffensive as so much dew! The old-fashioned way was "salty." They got action, but they leave the bowels matter! Mineral oils are gentler, but they leave the bowels with a film of poisons for the blood to carry off through the pores. But when you cascade the system, you get rid of all the poisons by normal muscular action of the bowels.

If you have the habit of taking medicine for constipation, or even for auto-intoxication, stop it. For a candy cascara is a delightful form in which to take cascara; children love them, and the taste tempts most grown-ups to have "more." And what a comfort to know you are free from constipation, even in warm weather! Try a cascara tonight—see how you feel next day, and for days after! With the skin fresh and fragrant. All druggists, 10c and 25c.

"ANYTHING that gets results, was all the thought I ever gave to laxatives. In those days my perspiration was so acid, it used to rot my clothes. Then a doctor tipped me off to those wonderful little sweeteners—

LODGE ACTIVITIES

BIRTHDAYS OF 3 PRESIDENTS ARE OBSERVED

The birthday anniversaries of three great patriots of this country, Washington, Lincoln and McKinley, who were born in February, were celebrated Friday afternoon, when Sedgwick corps, No. 17, W. R. C., gave a patriotic tea in G. A. R. hall.

The program was opened with the singing of "America."

District Attorney Z. B. West gave an address on "George Washington, the Father of His Country;" the Rev. F. T. Porter took McKinley as the inspiration for his address and Judge E. T. Langley, veteran of the Civil war, told impressively of the life of Abraham Lincoln.

Mrs. Freda Moesser Barger sang "The Songs My Mother Used to Sing," and Mrs. Emma Chapman sang "Mary, the Good Old Name." J. G. Baum, with his violin, added interest to the occasion with his old-time melodies. The guests assembled about the piano and sang many patriotic songs, led by Mrs. Sarah Brown.

Many of those present were attired in colonial dress, with powdered wigs and, with the vivid patriotic decorations and flags, the scene was an impressive one.

Refreshments were served.

UNITED DAUGHTERS DISCUSS AUTHORS

Mrs. E. C. Martin, Mrs. Looney, Mrs. Lillie Hamilton and Mrs. Rogers were hostesses, Thursday afternoon, at Mrs. Martin's home, on East Chestnut street, to members of the Emma Sansone chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy. The subject for the afternoon's discussion was "Dialect Writers of the South."

Mrs. T. H. Bond and Mrs. Clarence Nison were the principal speakers on the afternoon's program and they told of the lives and works of a number of southern writers, illustrating their points through the quoting of various original lines and verses. Mrs. Bond presented the reading, "The Homestead Nigger in Chicago," and Mrs. Nison, "How Uncle Sam's Spectacles Cured Him."

Other numbers included piano solos by Miss Virginia Adams and vocal solos by Miss Elizabeth Archer.

Refreshments carrying out the valentine motif were served.

HERMOSA CHAPTER IS ENTERTAINED

Members of Hermosa chapter, Order of Eastern Star, were entertained, Thursday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Nona Cloyes, 512 Orange avenue, when Mrs. Cloyes, Mrs. Kitty Smith, Mrs. Irene Mitchell, Mrs. Doris Richardson and Mrs. Norma Barker were hostesses. The afternoon was spent in bridge or sewing, as members desired.

At the end of the afternoon, it was found that Dr. Mary Wright held high score for bridge, while Mrs. S. A. Jones was second. Mrs. M. C. Hoyt was first in a contest connected with those who sewed. Each received an attractive gift.

Refreshments bespeaking St. Valentine's day were served by the hostesses.

Head of Order Is Santa Ana Guest

Mrs. Catherine Erickson, of Los Angeles, deputy supreme commander, was guest of honor, Friday afternoon, when the Woman's Benefit association met in M. W. A. hall. Plans were made for a public tea, to be held Thursday afternoon, February 17, at the home of Mrs. Cora Wood. It was announced that members would hold an apron sale in the near future.

Entertains Past Grands Society

Mrs. Thurman Means entertained the Past Noble Grands association of Sycamore Rebekah lodge, Thursday afternoon, at her home on East First street.

Following a brief business session, the guests spent the afternoon in sewing and conversation. When refreshment time arrived, Mrs. Hattie Peters was surprised by the presentation of a large birthday cake in honor of her birthday anniversary, which fell on the following day.

COMMANDER OF G. A. R. POST RESIGNS OFFICE

The Rev. Hugh C. Turner, who recently was elected commander of Sedgwick post, No. 17, G. A. R., department of California and Nevada, has resigned from that office.

Reasons given by the Rev. Mr. Turner for his resignation are the death of his wife, which occurred several weeks ago, and the fact that he will be obliged to soon go east, where he expects to remain for some time.

Members of the local post have expressed regret at losing Commander Turner, who is one of the youngest members of the post, and who has proven competent in the fulfillment of his duties.

REBEKAHS ENJOY COLONIAL PARTY

Dressed in colonial frocks, belonging to their great-grandmothers, members of Sycamore Rebekah lodge gathered Saturday night, in I. O. O. F. hall, for their annual colonial dinner and party.

Following the dinner, a short business meeting was held, when plans for the district meeting, to be held here February 23, were discussed.

A program, in which Mrs. Edith Nelson, accompanied by Mrs. Lena Allen, sang several appropriate numbers and musical selections and readings were given by Mrs. Gross and her three children, was presented. After the program, a dance, for which Mrs. Gross played, was held.

A surprise of the evening was the announcement of the marriage of Mrs. Elizabeth Johns and David Hicks, who were showered with both rice and congratulations by the members.

BIG SMOKES WILL VISIT KIOWA TRIBE

Martin L. Haines, great junior sagamore; E. B. Moore, past great sagamore, and Al Oener, district deputy great sachem, will be honored guests, Thursday, of members of Kiowa tribe, Improved Order of Red Men, according to an announcement made at last Thursday's meeting, in M.W.A. hall.

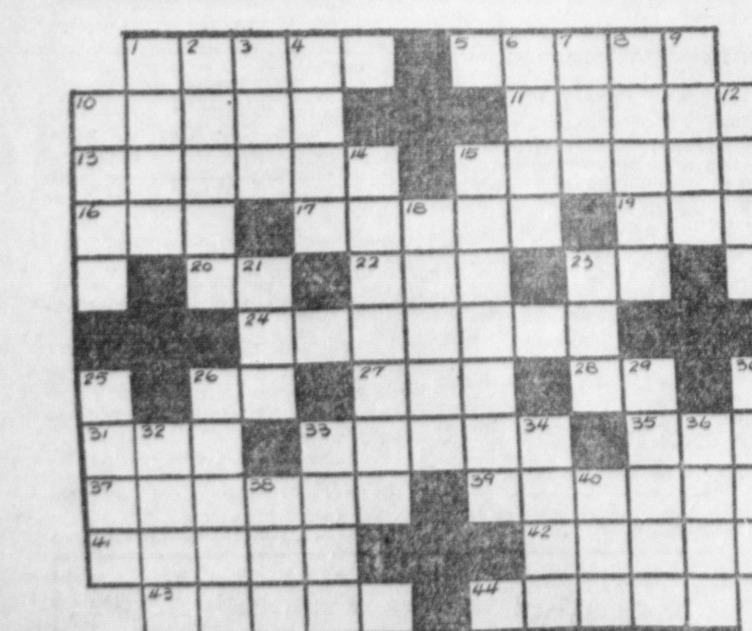

Each of these men will give an address dealing with matters of interest to the tribe members.

At Thursday's business meeting, plans for future meetings were discussed and committees appointed to arrange various details in connection with them.

Following a short program, refreshments were served.

NEWS from ORANGE COUNTY

FIVE MILLION BULBS SHIPPED BY COSTA MESA

COSTA MESA, Feb. 15.—R. A. Casad shipped 4,700,000 freesia bulbs and a sufficient number of gladioli, to swell the number to 5,000,000, during the past year. It was learned here today that this is believed to be a record shipment for any one community in California.

Casad deals only with wholesale dealers in New York and Chicago. So far they have taken his entire output. Casad started in the bulb raising business here four years ago, after purchasing 10 acres of land. He raised only five acres of bulbs the first year but soon increased the acreage. Last year, he had 25 acres in bulbs.

The bulbs yield an average of $500 an acre, according to Casad. Soil and climate of the Costa Mesa district are ideal for bulb raising, according to Casad. He declares that the climate has a great deal to do with the size of the bulbs. Cold weather will retard the growth of the bulbs, resulting in a lower price, he says.

COMPLETE 2 SEAL BEACH WELLS SOON

SEAL BEACH, Feb. 15.—The Marland Oil company has two wells on the verge of completion in the Seal Beach field, either or both of which may go on production today or tomorrow. These are Bixby No. 6, which made a casing test yesterday, and drilled out the plug last night for a production test today. Bottom of this well is at 4460 with eight-inch water string set at 4432 feet.

Cars driven by S. S. Smith, of West Whiting avenue, and A. C. Calland, of 409 Jacaranda avenue, collided at the intersection of Whiting and Highland avenues Sunday night. Considerable damage was done to both cars. Mrs. A. Calland, who was riding in the Calland car, suffered various head injuries and a possible fracture of the skull. She was taken to the Fullerton General hospital.

Sunday morning, cars driven by J. M. Hughes, of 247 East Whiting avenue, and Fred T. Willis, of 1117 East Wilshire avenue, collided at the corner of Wilshire and Harvard avenues. Marie K. Hughes, who was riding in the Hughes car, fainted from the shock of the collision. Very little damage was done to the car.

Yesterday, cars driven by Dr. C. E. Steen, Fullerton physician and resident of Brea, and C. G. Smith, oil worker of Brea, collided at the Brea-Whittier boulevard intersection north of Fullerton. Smith and his wife, who was riding with him, suffered head and shoulder injuries. They were removed to the rooms of Dr. Lang in Fullerton.

Sour Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia"
Better than Soda

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, five cent and ten cent tins. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips, since 1875.

School Needs In Buena Park to Be Discussed Feb. 23

BUENA PARK, Feb. 15.—The question of whether to add more rooms to the present school building on Grand avenue or to build a new structure in another part of town as specified in a petition recently circulated by Mrs. H. A. Allen will be discussed at a meeting called by the school trustees at the Buena Park grammar school auditorium February 23.

The entire school situation will be discussed at the session. The need of additional schoolroom has been acknowledged by the interest taken in the matter, it is stated by school officials.

MEXICAN HELD ON KNIFE CHARGE

FULLERTON, Feb. 15.—Fullerton policemen, aided by Deputy Constable Mills, entered a home on East Truslow avenue early Sunday morning and arrested Felix Ortiz and Reddy St. Fernio for possession of white mulatto liquor. As the attempt was made to arrest Fernio by Officer Trezise, the Mexican is alleged to have pulled out a knife and tried to stab the officer. However, the weapon only grazed the officer's neck, cutting through the collar of the coat and shirt and inflicting a slight flesh wound.

The two men were fined $50 each at the trial yesterday in Judge Spencer's court for the possession of liquor charge. Fernio, who was charged with assault with a deadly weapon in addition to the liquor charge, is being held for further trial.

Park C. of C. To Convene Tonight

BUENA PARK, Feb. 15.—The regular meeting of the chamber of commerce will be held this evening in the headquarters in the Golden-Schumacher-Trapp building. As a number of important matters will come up for consideration, a good attendance is expected.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, Feb. 15.—The rally scheduled for Friday night of this week has been indefinitely postponed on account of so much illness in Westminster. The rally was planned to stimulate interest in the building of a library for Westminster and a later date will be announced soon.

The Westminster Thursday afternoon club will meet Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. B. Herold in Long Beach.

An enthusiastic game of basketball was played on Westminster school grounds Friday afternoon between Seal Beach and Westminster. There was a game between the girls and one between the boys of each school, with the girls of Westminster winning and the boys losing.

Monday afternoon was a happy time at school, when valentines were exchanged in all of the rooms between the boys and girls. Pretty boxes had been in place for several days, and when no one was looking, dainty, lace-like creations were timidly and rather hastily dropped within, to await the hour of distribution on Valentine's day.

Mrs. Myrtle Montgomery spent Sunday night in Oceanside with her mother, Mrs. Mattie Smalley, who is ill.

Miss Ruth West spent the weekend with Miss Annabelle Lewis in Artesia.

Mrs. Henry West entertained Lahoma Lewis, of Long Beach, in her home here over the week-end.

Through the request of a church letter Sunday, it became known that two of Westminster's one time residents have married, although neither lived here at the same time. Mrs. Mary Conrad, who for some time was proprietor of the West End market here, has become the wife of the Rev. A. M. Prewitt, who for several years was the minister for the Presbyterian church here.

Mrs. J. L. Edward entertained Saturday afternoon at a birthday party in observance of the 11th anniversary of her daughter, Hattie Annie. The Edward home was very pretty for the occasion, the table being decorated in blue and white, with a beautiful birthday cake in the center, a gift of Mrs. W. B. McCoy and Mrs. H. O. Chamberlain, who were guests at the party. Guests were Doris Vansosen, Mary Lou Harte, Mary Arnett, Virginia Turpin, Annabelle Day, Mary King and Maxine Terry.

Mrs. Marie Johnson has returned from a rather extended visit with her parents in Bakersfield. Mr. Johnson motored to that city for her on Sunday evening.

Lee M. Carter spent the week-end from San Pedro with Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Carter.

Mrs. Edith Johnson, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Carl Zanders, of Hollywood, were guests Friday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walton.

Mrs. Dudley Smith, of Alhambra, was a guest Friday evening of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Byram, and was joined later by her husband for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Smith, of Burbank, and sons, Norman, Ralph, Donald, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Byram on Saturday. Norman is remaining with the Byrams while he does some work on the Smith ranch.

Mrs. Frank L. King was hostess Friday afternoon, in Huntington Beach, when she entertained a group of women from the First Christian church there.

CONDITIONS IN WAR TORN CHINA TOLD IN LETTER

FULLERTON, Feb. 15.—The Rev. S. Fraser Langford, pastor of the First Baptist church, Fullerton, has received a letter from Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Dawes, which tells of the terrifying conditions in China at the present time. Mr. and Mrs. Dawes are missionaries in China, having sailed from San Pedro last December. They are relatives of Mr. and Mrs. El Moore, of this city.

The letter, which was dated January 9, was written from Tsingtau, where the missionaries have their station.

The following is a portion of the letter:

"Never were conditions in China as bad as they are now. The southern army has crossed to the middle of China, save that Shanghai has not yet fallen into their hands. You know this is the 'Soviet' army; red, red, indeed. No way to say how awful are conditions in the wake of their path. Mission schools are closed and churches are defiled. The most blasphemous reports are scattered by them concerning the church and the church work."

"A few foreigners have been killed, and conditions look very serious. Just at this minute they are not against the British, but no one can tell when they will be equally bitter against other nationals. Today's paper speaks as if all foreigners would be ordered to the ports."

"It has just come out in the last two or three weeks that they are anti-Christian and word is now being circulated that General Feng, the Christian general, has returned from Moscow, a thoroughgoing Soviet. Sad, sad indeed, if this is true, for this is the man Christians hoped would lead China into the 'True Light.'"

"The southern army expects to seep north as soon as spring opens. The bandit situation grows steadily worse."
